“Life is real ! Life is earnest !

And the grave is not its goal;
Dust thou art, to dust returnest,
Was not spoken of the soul.

“Lives of great men all remind us

We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Foot-prints on the sands of time.

“Foot-prints, that perhaps another,

Sailing o’er life’s solemn main,
A forlorn and shipwrecked brother,
Seeing, shall take heart again.

“Let us, then, be up and doing,

With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait.

PREFACE.

Cape M. 120

This book, a history of Eel River Christian Conference, and of her churches, together with biographical sketches of her ministers, illustrated with cuts of many of those who have labored in "sunshine and shadow" for the success of the Christian church and her principles has been prepared by a committee of the Conference appointed for that purpose. The initial steps for the publication of this work was taken at the annual session of the Conference held in August, 1900. President Whitelock suggested at that time that as almost 50 years had elapsed since the organization of the Conference, that if any history of its work were ever prepared it ought to be done soon. The matter was presented at a joint meeting of the Executive Board and Board of Trustees, and a committee was appointed to consider the advisability of preparing a Conference History, consisting of J. Frank Barnes, Rev. R. W. Page and J. M. Brown. This committee reported in favor of printing a history, and recommended that a committee be appointed to formulate a history and prepare it for the press. This report was approved and the following committee was selected: O. W. Whitelock, J. F. Barnes, Peter Winebrenner, David Hidy, R. W. Page.

At the session of Conference held at Six Mile church, August, 1901, Rev. W. J. Young was added to the committee on biography, and has been a very valuable helper in the work. The committee has taken pains to get the facts in relation to our Conference proceedings, and to give a correct history of the churches of our Conference as far as obtainable. The work of the committee has been divided among the members. The biographical sketches being in the hands of Elder Winebrenner and Rev. W. J. Young, but they were not all prepared by these brethren. The church histories were, for the most part, collected by Elder Hidy and Rev. Page; the Conference history proper was prepared by our worthy secretary from the Conference records, and the constitution and by-laws codified by the president.

The aim of the committee has been accuracy, but no doubt some errors have crept into the work, but we believe the book is accurate in substantially all the statements of fact. The committee is greatly under obligations to the many brothers and sisters throughout the Conference that have so ably assisted in this work. No attempt has been made to embellish the statements of fact by the use of ornate language, believing that what the brotherhood desired was a faithful historical record to be handed down from generation to generation. The book is a history of the progress of our Conference and churches in the past fifty-eight years. This record of the struggles of the early churches, her ministers and laity, ought to be an inspiration to us and to our posterity to greater efforts in the vineyard of the Lord, and should encourage sacrifices on the part of the members of the Christian church for the upbuilding of our beloved Zion. If this shall be the fruition of the labors of this committee, then its work will not have been in vain, and we will feel that this book will be a golden chord binding the past to the present and linking this generation with those yet unborn.

We hope the brethren will pardon our mistakes and look upon this book as their own, and will lend a helping hand to send it forth on its mission of good.

COMMITTEE.

HISTORY.

In the earlier settlement of the north central part of Indiana, a few pioneer Christian ministers, who braved the privations of a new country had gone about from settlement to settlement and preached in log cabins and in the open woods until they had gathered together here and there a little band of earnest worshipers. These sturdy woodsmen believed that the followers of the Lord Jesus Christ should not be bound down by any creed but should take the Holy Bible as their only rule of faith and christian practice; that they like the free air of heaven which they breathed unrestrained, should have religious liberty of thought and should be allowed to fellowship all as christians who by their lives gave evidence of a christian character. These scattered flocks and those who, almost "without money and without price" fed them as best they could saw the necessity of organization for better work so they were called together for that purpose.

The first meeting of Eel River Christian Conference was held on Eel River, in Kosciusko county, Indiana, on the 26th day of August, 1844. The opening prayer was made by Elder Atchison. Elder A. Baldwin was chosen Chairman, and W. B. Wade, Secretary.

A resolution was then passed, that the name of this Conference should be Eel River Christian Conference; and one that this Conference should be composed of ministers and brethren in good standing. Also a resolution that this Conference look into the character and standing of ministers and churches, yearly.

The following churches were received at this first session: One near Deals Creek of twenty-six members, one in Miami Reserve of twenty-six members, one in Wabash of twenty-three members, one on Eel River of sixty-five members, the Washington township church of fifteen members, one near Wolf Lake of twelve members, Bethel, at Waterford, of forty-four members, one at Leesburg of fifty members, and the Chipaway church of twenty-three members. A committee of three persons was appointed to transact business during the recess of the Conference. W. B. Wade, Abner McCourtney, and Elias Baker were appointed to labor within the bounds of the Conference during the coming year.

At the second session, at Leesburg in 1845, a committee was appointed to arrange an order of business, whose report seems to have been carried out somewhat after our present manner of conducting Conference. Three new churches, Pleasant Grove, Trembles Creek and Pleasant Hill were received at this session. A resolution was also passed urging all to patronize the Herald of Gospel Liberty and the Home Missionary. Elders Roberts and Atchison were again appointed to labor within the bounds of the Conference. Delegates to sister Conferences were appointed at this session. Address by Snow Ritchison, of Ohio. Elias Baker, President; W. B. Wade, Secretary.

The third annual session was held near Waterford, Elkhart county, August 13, 1846. Address by Elder J. Roberts. It was decided at this session that Conference support a traveling minister. The minutes do not mention who was appointed to fill this position. Joseph Roberts, President; W. B. Wade, Secretary.

The fourth annual session was held with the Pleasant Grove church, Wabash county, August 13, 1847. Address by Elder H. Barber. This year $176.50 was pledged by the church for the support of the ministry. In the minutes of this session we notice that churches report what they can pay for preaching during the coming year. These sums range from ten to seventy dollars for each church. Elders Roberts and Atchison were appointed to supply churches with preaching, and to take in all the new ground they can, supplying each church with preaching once in two weeks. The amount donated by the churches to be divided between them equally, and if this be not sufficient, the standing committee was to aid them. J. Roberts, President; W. B. Wade, Secretary.

The fifth annual session was held with the Washington township church, August 18, 1848. Elder Joseph Spencer was received at this session. The following churches were also received: Paw Paw, 50 members; Lagro, 13 members; Jefferson, Mich., 20 members; Cass Co., Mich., 5 members. A resolution was passed at this session requesting churches to supply themselves with preaching for the coming year. Wm. Rodman, President; W. B. Wade, Secretary.

The sixth annual session was held in the Jefferson church, Mich., August 16, 1849. A resolution was passed at this session censuring ministers for not better attending to their appointments, and providing for the dropping of a minister who had not called his congregation together for one year. Elder James Atchison was chosen evangelist at this session. Asa Pratt, James Mason and Peter D. Wood were Spencer, President; J. Simington, Secretary.

The sixteenth annual session was held in the Ludlow church in Kosciusko county, August, 1859. Address by Wm. B. Jones. Received three churches, viz: Rock Creek, 53 members; Warren, 22 members; West Union, 31 members. The business of this session seems to have been more systematically arranged, as we notice reports of committees on Publications, Sunday Schools, Education, etc. In addition, the usual resolutions condemning slavery and intoxicating drinks were passed. U. C. College was very strongly commended at this session. Thos. Whitman, President; J. Cunningham, Secretary.

The seventh annual session was held with the Pleasant Grove

The eighteenth annual session was held at the Waterford Christian church, August, 1861. Address by Peter Winebrenner. Several ministers united with Conference. The following important resolution was passed at this session: Resolved, That we hereby advise the churches of this Conference to have their organizations incorporated, at least before they build a meeting house, and to deed their property so that it will become the property of the Conference when the church shall have lost its visibility. Geo. Abbott, President; J. Cunningham, Secretary.

The twentieth annual session was held in the Salamonie Christian church, Huntington county, August, 1863. Address by N. Summerbell. College, urging all ministers and church members to give it their hearty support. Other resolutions pertaining to temperance, and urging churches to employ pastor's regularly were also passed at this session. The standing committee of Conference held a meeting in October, 1865, at which time the question of a Conference evangelist, or missionary, was discussed at some length, and seems to have resulted in the employment of such an evangelist. The time of holding Conference was also changed to October, but this change did not seem to be observed, as we notice the next session was held in September, and then the time changed back to August again. Elder Peter Winebrenner, President; R. Abbott, Vice-President; C. Clemmons, Secretary.

The twenty-third annual session was held in the Sugar Grove Christian church, September 26 to 28, 1866. Address by Elder James Atchison. Resolved, That we enter this field of labor by distributing tracts, setting forth the principles of Christian connection, and as soon as our missionary fund will warrant, supply those cities and towns with preaching, authorizing the executive committee of this Conference to make selections of tracts already published and authorizing the writing and publishing of such others as they in their judgment shall deem best to answer our purposes.

The ministers living within the bounds of Conference, who were not already members of the same, were urged to become identified in Conference capacity, thereby strengthening the work and submitting themselves to the brethren for the Lord's sake. D. W. Fowler, President; Peter Winebrenner, Secretary; D. W. Jones, Assistant Secretary; John P. Kitt, Treasurer.

The thirtieth annual session was held in the Antioch Christian church, August, 1873. At this session resolutions were passed providing for an equal number of brethren and sisters to be appointed as delegates to Conference. This was to encourage the sisters to attend Conference, something which they were not doing. Also a resolution providing that each church be allowed two delegates, and and two additional delegates for each 25 members, said delegates to be equally divided between the brothers and sisters of each church. A committee on incorporation was appointed at this session. A called session of Conference was held at Pleasant Grove church, October, 1873, for the incorporation of Eel River Christian Conference. Resolutions to that effect were passed, and territory of Conference designated. Five trustees were also elected. D. W. Jones, President; P. Winebrenner, Secretary; John P. Kitt, Treasurer.

The thirty-first annual session was held in the Paw Paw Christian church, August 12 to 15, 1874. Churches received: Rock Creek, Hopewell and Beech Grove. At this session a committee on reform and recommendations, as to church organization, made report. This report is quite lengthy and provides a form of business for the churches, also setting forth the duties of the various officers of each church, providing for quarterly and annual business meetings, defining duties of both pastor and church members, in fact a good model for church organization. They also decided to elect Conference Presidents for a term of three years, or during good behavior. This rule does not seem to have been observed for very many years. At this session David Hidy was President; Peter Winebrenner, Secretary; John P. Kitt, Treasurer.

The thirty-second annual session was held in the Christian church near Coesse, Whitley county, Indiana, August 11 to 14, 1875.

Address by Elder George Abbott. The committee on incorporation of Conference reported, at this session, that what had been done did not comply with the statutes of Indiana, and recommended that steps be taken at once to perfect the incorporation. Thereupon the President appointed the following committee for that purpose, P. Winebrenner, John P. Kitt and Samuel Ohlwine.

A called session of Conference was held October 13, 1875, at the Christian church near Wolf Lake for the incorporation of Eel River Christian Conference, to embrace the counties of Steuben, DeKalb, Allen, Wells, Adams, Huntington, Whitley, Noble, Lagrange, Elkhart, Kosciusko and Wabash. The following trustees were elected: For one year, Abraham Studabaker, Aaron Simpson and Christian Myers; for two years, Miller Morgan, Samuel Ohlwine and John P. Kitt; for three years, Robert Gill, David P. Studabaker and Benjamin Benner. Certificates of election of the above trustees were issued and duly recorded in Albion, Noble county, October 20, 1875, in Miscellaneous Record No. 2, Page 45. D. W. Jones, President; Peter Winebrenner, Secretary; J. P. Kitt, Treasurer.

The thirty-third annual session was held in the Pleasant Grove Christian church, August, 1876. Address by Peter Winebrenner. At this session the custom of reading the minutes annually was abolished, and the minutes read and corrected each morning. The committee on incorporation of Conference also made its report, as noted in former session. Officers same as previous session.

The thirty-fourth annual session was held in the Sugar Grove Christian church, August 16 to 18, 1877. Address by Elder Thomas Whitman. A session of the usual Conference work, hearing reports of committees, passing resolutions, and planning for the "general welfare" of the work. Officers same as former session.

The thirty-fifth annual session was held in the Murray Christian church, August 15 to 17, 1878. Address by Peter Winebrenner. At this session the custom of voting by proxy was abolished. A very harmonious and profitable session, much good being done in stirring up earnestness and zeal in the churches in general. Officers same as former session.

The thirty-sixth annual session was held in the Millwood Christian church, August 13 to 16, 1879. Address by W. S. Manville. The Sparta church was received at this session. An interesting session of usual Conference business. Officers same as former session.

The thirty-seventh annual session was held in the Union Christian church, Whitley county, August 11 to 14, 1880. Address by Elder Thomas Whitman. Some important resolutions were passed at this session. We notice the following: "That the churches of Eel River Christian Conference be instructed, by the ministers, not to employ any man, as minister, unless he comes to them recommended by some Christian Conference." "That churches composing this Conference, when recommending candidates for license, show their willingness to support the candidate for at least one year." "That those who rise to speak in open Conference, shall confine themselves directly to the question, and avoid all personalities and everything which is calculated to mar the peace or wound the feelings of any one; and further, it shall be the duty of the President of this Conference to see that the above resolutions be carried out in full, from this time forth and forever." D. W. Jones, President; C. V. Strickland, Vice-President; Peter Winebrenner, Secretary; John P. Kitt, Treasurer.

The thirty-eighth annual session was held in the Merriam Christian church, August 17, 1881. At this session it was Resolved, "That Conference require its members, both ministers and delegates, to remain during the entire Conference session unless excused by the President, and if any objections were offered by any member he must also obtain consent of the Conference before he is legally excused." A session of usual Conference work hearing reports of committees and passing resolutions. Officers same as former session.

The thirty-ninth annual session was held with the Eel River Christian church, Kosciusko county, August 16 to 19, 1882. At this session it was ordered that each male member pay 50 cents and each female member 25 cents annually to the Treasurer of Conference; and further that ministers having charge of churches, solicit the payment of these funds from the members, and pay the same over to the Treasurer. A very harmonious session of interesting Conference work. W. D. Samuel, President; David Hidy, Vice-President; Peter Winebrenner, Secretary; John P. Kitt, Treasurer.

There was a called session of Conference held in the Union Christian church in March, 1883, at which meeting provisions were made for the sale of the Wabash Christian church, and for the payment of the debt on the Leesburg church. This was accomplished later in the same spring, the Leesburg debt being paid in full.

At this session a resolution was passed ordering that all ministers laboring within the bounds of this Conference as Christian ministers, to be recognized as such, must hold a membership in this or some other Christian Conference, and to be recognized as ordained ministers must receive ordination by the authority of some Christian Conference. Also a resolution urging that we secure good music, both vocal and instrumental, in our worship. A committee reporting on women's work in the church, extends to women the same rights and privileges to teach, preach or lecture on temperance or literature, in fact, all works of love required in the gospel. This session was full of interest in the cause of the Master. David Hidy was President; W. D. Samuel, Vice-President; Peter Winebrenner, Secretary; John P. Kitt, Treasurer.

The forty-first annual session was held with the Warren Christian church, August 13 to 16, 1884. It was ordered at this session that each minister, who has not laid before his charge and endeavored to collect the Conference Mission Fund, shall be reprimanded. This seems to have been a harmonious and profitable session. Officers same as former session.

There was the usual Conference work of hearing reports of churches and ministers, passing resolutions, etc. John Sellers, President; W. Only in case of reports, that have been called for, and have not reported the year before, such reports to be read, if handed in before the close of the session. It was also resolved that each member of each church be assessed 5 cents per quarter, as a missionary fund to be used among the weak churches of Conference. Such assessment to be made on the members and not on the church as a body. Officers same as former session.

The forty-fourth annual session was held with the Broadway Christian church, August 17 to 20, 1887. At this session it was Resolved, That this Conference use the blanks that shall be adopted by the American Christian Convention for church and Sabbath School reports, etc. Also that Conference recommend all the churches and ministers to respond to the call of the American Christian Convention for the following collections annually: 1st, For The Convention, on Christmas. 2nd, For Education, on Easter Sunday. 3rd, For Home Missions, on Children's Day. 4th, Foreign Missions, second Sunday in October. Also Resolved, That we, as ministers, pledge ourselves to take up the collections required by the Quadrennial and this Conference, and failing to do our duty, that we be reprimanded by the President in open Conference. Also resolutions for the establishing of a Sinking Fund. Also, assessing each member 10 cents per quarter for the use of Conference. That in the election of officers, candidates shall be nominated, and not placed on vote by motion and seconded, as the latter is a barrier to fair elections. Also resolutions repealing all former methods of raising finances, except the one adopted at this session. Officers same as the former session.

The forty-fifth annual session was held with the Bluffton Christian church, August 15 to 18, 1888. Keep them out of our Chapels until they bring letters of recommendation of their good ministerial character and ability to preach the gospel. Also Resolved, That this Conference will not allow any minister of another denomination to hold a lengthy meeting in our Chapels and to organize another church, and then demand of us a regular portion of time, each month, as has been done, and by so doing cause confusion, disturbance and division. Officers same as former session.

The forty-sixth annual session was held with the Sparta Christian church, Noble county, August 14 to 17, 1889. At this session it was Resolved, That no church be allowed to employ a minister until they have made full settlement for the previous year. Also, that no church property in the bounds of this Conference shall be deeded to the Trustees of Eel River Conference, until said property shall be free from all indebtedness. John W. Sellers, President; Robert L. Amber, Vice-President; Frank Shaffer, Treasurer; Peter Winebrenner, Secretary.

The forty-seventh annual session was held with the North

Manchester Christian church, August 13 to 16, 1890. At this session the following resolution was passed: That the Eel River Christian Conference approves the efforts being made by Rev. E. A. Devore, to secure a permanent endowment for the Chair of Biblical Literature of Union Christian College, and a resident for the incumbent of that chair; we pledge for this purpose the sum of five hundred dollars, with six per cent. annual interest, and that the principal be paid within ten years, in such installments as may suit the convenience of this body. Also ordered that the President of Conference strike a dividend among all the churches in this Conference, and notify each church what her quota will be in liquidating said debt. BIOGRAPHIES.

ELDER JAMES ATCHISON

Was born in Lewisburg, Ohio, in 1814. He received a common school education in Darke county, Ohio. Was converted and joined the church in the year 1832. Entered the ministry in 1838 and was ordained in Jay county, Ind., in 1842.

Rev. Atchison was present at the organization of Eel River Conference and offered the opening prayer at that session. He united with the Conference at its second session, 1845, and was a faithful member to the time of his death. He preached during his natural life time to almost every church in Conference. Also preached some in other Conferences, and with the writer and Elder Tatton took a tour through Canada in the year 1870. After attending the quadrennial convention in Oshawa (1870) he preached at White Vail, Bann, and other Christian churches of Canada. He attended almost all of the quadrennial conventions, and being a very able Bible preacher, he was usually called upon to preach. His favorite themes were: "The Sonship of Christ," and "The Suffering, Death and Resurrection of Christ," and "The Last Resurrection" was his special favorite theme. In his lofty flights upon these topics he would seemingly bring heaven and earth together, and we could hardly tell whether in or out of the body.

Rev. Atchison not only offered the first prayer in Eel River Conference, but it became the custom of Conference to have him open all of its annual sessions with prayer. This was kept up for fifty years or more.

His first wife was the daughter of Elder Joseph Roberts, and after her death he married Mrs. White of Ligonier, with whom he lived until his death. She survived him but a short time when she too fell asleep. And now they "sleep that sleep from which none ever wake to weep."

Rev. Atchison was one of our mild preachers, all love with him. He was a lover of the old Christian hymns and would frequently sing them. Eternity alone can tell the amount of good done by this dear loving and beloved brother, and great must be his reward in Heaven, nothing less than "A house not made with hands, eternal in the Heavens."

P. W. W.

ELDER PETER BANTA

Though never a member of Eel River Christian Conference deserves mention in this book because of his part in laying the foundation for this Conference. About the year 1840, Father David Winebrenner, an exhorter, learned from Brother Baker that Rev. Peter Banta from Ohio would preach at Waterford Mills at a certain time. Being desirous to have a Christian minister organize a church at Wolf Lake, he rode on horse-back to Waterford where he met and heard Banta and solicited him to come to Wolf Lake, which he did and organized what is now the Merriam church with twelve charter members. He also organized other Christian churches, preparing the way for the organization of this Conference. Elder Banta traveled on horse back from near Dayton, Ohio, to points in Ohio and Indiana taking a month to make his rounds, giving each point monthly preaching, and on account of having new places to visit, it frequently took more than a month. Here was a man with the right Christian zeal and grit. Filled with the Holy Ghost he pushed forward to certain victory. Does not Eel River Christian Conference and many of her churches stand as a living monument to God's power manifested through the earnest labors of his steward, Peter Banta?

REV. ROBERT L. AMBER

Was born near Urbana, Ind. He was converted and joined the Christian church in 1876 under the ministry of Thomas Whitman. He united with the Conference as a licentiate in 1886 and was ordained at Broadway the following year. He was a consecrated young man of ability and served as pastor of the following churches: Sidney, Salamonie, Pleasant Grove, Bema Vista, Plum Tree, North Manchester, and at St. Johnsville, N. Y. He died in 1895 and was widely mourned. We copy from the report of the Committee on Condolence: "Brother Amber was an earnest student, carefully preparing himself for the work by taking a biblical course at U. C. College and graduating from the same institution. During his ministry he filled a number of pulpits as pastor to good acceptance, his last charge being at North Manchester. While engaged in active work, he was compelled to lay aside his labor, hoping that by careful treatment he might be restored to usefulness. His ministry was a success, as all who knew him can testify. His last words were, "I am going to rest."

REV. JOHN BOSLEY

Was received as a licentiate in 1851. His name was dropped three years later by his own request.

ELDER GEORGE ABBOTT

United with Eel River Conference as a licentiate member at its fourth annual session which was held at Pleasant Grove in 1847. He was ordained in the same church in 1849.

Elder Abbott was born in Preble county, Ohio, September 18, 1817, and died in North Manchester, March 30, 1894, aged 76 years, 6 months and 12 days. He was the son of James and Catherine Abbott, both of whom were members of the Christian church. When George was 17 years old his father moved to Kosciusko county, Ind., where together they cleared up a farm in the green woods. He was married to Naucy Barrett in 1838, and immediately moved to a place four miles east of North Manchester, where he began clearing a farm for himself. Under Elder Banta in 1842 he and his wife united with the Christian church. He at once entered the ministry but was not ordained until 7 years later, when he entered fully upon the work of the ministry. The country was new, the people poor, his salary a pittance, yet he pushed forward. For the first three year's labor as a minister, he received twenty-five cents in money. He organized some twenty churches as will be seen in the church histories. His last great work in organization was at Huntington. He never wanted for a place to labor. If not called to some particular place, he made for himself a place.

He was disliked some because of his tendency to fight for his beloved principles, but he was extremely tender hearted and sympathetic, often shedding tears for people in their afflictions. He contended earnestly for the name "Christian" and frequently said, "I would as lief be called a devil as a Newlight." He had a number of debates with opponents of his faith, most prominent of which were the following: First, with Rev. Douglas in a barn near Markle, Ind., the subject being, "The Trinity and Pedit Baptism." The second one was held near Galveston, Ind., on "The Kingdom of Christ upon Earth." Abbott affirmed and the negative was taken by an Advent restitutionist, Carbala by name. The third occurred at Paw Paw with a Disciple minister. The design of water baptism figured largely in the discussion. They also discussed the same subject debated with Carbala. The fourth was held at Ashton, Ill., with Rev. Stevenson, an Advent restitutionist, the subject being the one discussed with Carbala. Abbott never was defeated. In defense of Bible truth he was a power in the hands of God.

His wife died in March, 1888, leaving four children, four having preceded her. On December 12th of the same year Elder Abbott took to wife, Elizabeth Bennett, who was a member of the Merriam Christian church and with whom he lived happily until his death. His dying words were these: "Brother Winebrenner, I have considered my past life and feel satisfied with it. Had I my life to live over, I should wish no change in it. If I erred in any way, it was an error of the head and not of the heart. I was sincere and conscientious in all my preaching and discussions, presenting what, with all my heart, I believed to be strictly in accord with God's word, and with this I am satisfied." His funeral was held at Pleasant Grove where he united with the church, where accepted into Conference, and where ordained. His body was there interred.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Peter Winebrenner, assisted by Elder Thomas Whitman and Rev. J. N. Ullery.

REV. JOSEPH AMBER

United with Eel River Conference as a licentiate in 1895. In 1896 he preached at Prairie school house in Illinois and attended U. C. College. He was ordained at his home church, Paw Paw, in 1897. His work in the ministry was of short duration, as at the next annual session, 1898, Conference was called upon to record his death. Suitable exercises of condolence were held, Conference standing with bowed heads in token of their sorrow and respect.

REV. MARTIN ARNOLD

Was born in Maryland in 1805. He was converted and joined the church in 1856. He united with Conference as a licentiate in 1868 and lived a consistent christian life up to the day of his death which was caused by his horse becoming frightened at a train and running away. He was 85 years of age. In the report of the Committee on Condolence his life was praised because of his faith and efficiency in the christian ministry.

REV. NELSON ABBOTT

Who resides at Mt. Etna, Ind., united with the Conference as a licentiate in 1867, and was ordained in 1871. Bro. Abbott, while not being actively engaged in the ministry, reports at every session of Conference, either by letter or in person.

The summer of 1901 was spent in the University of Chicago in the study of Latin and Psychology. His life has been an unusually busy one and he has had the confidence of his associates in every field of his activity. He is a quiet, reserved man, with a keen sense of humor and with a will power which makes itself felt in whatever he undertakes. While not a polished orator, he is a forcible speaker and hits the mark, which, after all, is the real test of the orator. His is the rare ability to discover ability and put it to work. Our personal estimate is, that his greatest usefulness is in organizing the educational work for the denomination, and in preparing men to go out to preach the Word.

Professor Atkinson is still a young man and his friends are justified in expecting much of him in the coming years.

REV. DAVID S. BOSWELL

He first attended a school held in a log school house near his home in 1842, and by attending faithfully during the winter months he made considerable advancement. At the age of 14 he united with the Pleasant Grove Christian church under the preaching of H. B. Barber who baptized him. In 1853 he was married to Miss S. J. Abbott. To them were born five children. Two sons and two daughters are still living.

October 8, 1863, he volunteered in the Union army and served as a non-commissioned sargeant in Company E, 130th Indiana Infantry. During the Atlantic campaign he was in 16 battles for a period of 120 days, and 200 of his regimental comrades were killed and wounded. He was honorably discharged after the close of the war, on June 8, 1865.

He preached his first sermon at Boonesville and became a member of Eel River Conference in 1868, was ordained in 1869, and has been in the work ever since, with all of his time taken. He served as President of the Conference 3 years and has been Vice-President for the past 11 years. He has preached about 1500 funerals, married 1200 couples, and baptized about 500 persons. He united with the church in 1840. He came to us well recommended from the North Western Ohio Conference. He died in the triumph of living faith within sight of heaven and went home to Jesus whom he loved so well, at the age of 56 years.

REV. JULIUS E. ETTER

He creditably completed Covington, Ohio, high school course and in addition to pursuing a private preparatory course of study, he spent some time in a Chicago theological seminary.

Though none of his connection were ever, in any way, identified with the Christian church, he has from his early life been in sympathy with her broad and Biblical propositions, and a staunch believer in the ultimate triumph of her teachings.

After preaching for some time in connection with his school work, he was ordained to the Christian ministry in the Miami Ohio Conference.

He was united in marriage with Miss Cora D. Minton, of Eaton, Ohio, August 22, 1895, and in 1897 was called to his present pastorate, succeeding the Rev. James Maple, D. D. He became an honorary member of Eel River Conference in 1901.

Rev. Etter is an able preacher and successful pastor. He is greatly loved by his congregation who give him earnest support in his efforts to strengthen the church. His years of usefulness in the cause of Christ have apparently just begun. It is hoped that he may be spared many years to labor in the Master's vineyard.

He was a man of fine physique, but during the winter of 1894-95 he was taken seriously ill while conducting revival services at North Webster and was soon cold in death. He was 43 years, 7 months and 29 days of age, and fell while laboring hard and faithfully.

Elder Fowler was one of the most brilliant pulpit orators in the State of Indiana. He did not remain in ruts but in thought stood upon the summit, inviting even his juniors in the ministry to come up higher. He died at his post. In 1898, while preaching in Iowa, he became suddenly ill. He read his text, turned to a brother minister with him in the pulpit and said, "You must preach this discourse, I am sick." He was assisted to the home of friends and feeling that his stay upon earth was at an end, he prayed that his sufferings might be of short duration. His prayer was answered as he expired in a short time. His was a useful life and the influence of his sweet teachings will be felt in succeeding generations. He served a number of our best churches as pastor.

In 1876 he was married to Miss Dollie Simons, a cultured lady of Eddytown, N. Y., who has ever since been a devoted and encouraging help-mate in all his efforts to better humanity. In 1891 he went to Europe to enlarge his store of knowledge visiting all the principal countries of that continent as well as Egypt.

While teaching at Dayton, Ohio, he was pastor of the Dayton church and later served the churches at Aran, Greenville Creek, Laura and Phillipsburg. In 1896 he returned to Starkey as principal, resigning in 1898 when he took charge of the Bluffton church in Eel River Conference, of which he at once became a member. For the past three years he has resided in Elkhart having in charge our mission there and also the Goshen church. He is a cultured, consecrated, spirit-filled man of God. The sacrifice he has made and the devotion with which he has brought the Elkhart church to the front has endeared him to the people of this Conference.

Near Bluffton, Wells County, Indiana.

REV. JAMES H. GREGORY

Was born in Franklin county, Pennsylvania, in 1810, united with the church in 1828 and was ordained to the Christian ministry in 1851. He resided near Merriam church upon his farm for 14 years when he moved to Walkerton, Ind., where he died in 1891 at the advanced age of 81 years. His talent was largely exhortation. He frequently spoke in Conference of himself putting chunks of fire-brands together. Illustrating his chosen work by something known to people in that early day. When clearing the land of the forests, logs were piled together in heaps and burned. After burning awhile they would fall apart, when the fireman must with hand-spike bring the chunks and fire-brands together. Thus, like the fireman, he succeeded in bringing together those who were out of harmony with one another.

There occurred an incident in his life which may be of help to others. While residing at Merriam he lay sick nigh unto death for a long time.

Friends, wife and children were watching at his bedside expecting each breath to be the last when he suddenly opened his eyes and said, "I came to the river of Death. The waves were running high, the waters chilly. There stood an Angel who said, 'You cannot cross now, the waters are too cold, the waves too high. Tarry with your family, complete your work and when all is done, you will find the waters calm and the chill removed. Then you may cross over.'"

After this scene he regained his strength and labored earnestly for the Master till the call came.

Amber and together they still reside near the Paw Paw church in Wabash county.

In 1847 he united with the Christian church and was ordained to the ministry at Paw Paw church. He served this church as deacon for twenty-five years. To the writer of this sketch, the dear old servant of God recently said, "The journey of life is almost over. Soon I shall kneel before the Great White Throne. May my Master then say, 'Well done. REV. HENDERSON JOHNSON

REV. DAVID WINSTON JONES

President Eel River Christian Conference
1872 to 1883

Was born July 11, 1821, near the city of Dayton, Ohio. His parents, Obadiah and Ann Pearson Jones, were reputable Quakers or Friends, and he, therefore, had a birth-right membership in that church, and was brought up strictly in that faith. He attended the common schools of that period, including the Sunday School, and became proficient in the elementary branches, and committed many poems, and passages from the Holy Scriptures, that remain vivid in memory to this day. His "First Reader" in school was a copy of the New Testament. This about completed his education; for in 1834, when 14 years of age, he removed with his parents to the present site of Jonesborough, Grant county, Ind., to engage in making a home and a farm in that, at that time sparsely settled, new country. There were no schools here for several years afterward, and then but of the lowest grade.

The ensuing years, up to 1840, were occupied with hard work—clearing, farming, mill building and tending, with other work incident to an unimproved and wild country. The nearest Friend's meeting where he, with his parents, attended, was three miles; but just across the Mississinewa river, one mile, was situated the Walnut Creek Christian church, from its nearness and young society, he frequently attended. This was the means by which in after years, he became a member and a minister of the Christian church. He well remembers some of the ministers of those early days, among whom were Hallett Barbour, Arthur W. Sanford, Silas Parks, John Robison, S. C. Minnich, etc. "Uncle" Jimmy Atchison, as he afterwards was affectionately called, was just beginning his work in the ministry, and made frequent visits to Walnut Creek church where he made some of his first efforts.

During these years—the interim between youth and manhood—our subject often felt the impulse rising within him to be a scholar. At one time he made application to the President of Oberlin College, Ohio, to be admitted a pupil of that institution, and the correspondence resulted in an agreement that he was to enter at the next succeeding annual term. The father here interposed, he could not spare him, his oldest son from the work; besides the necessary funds to take him through college, were not available at the time. So the young man had to content himself with the moiety of learning he had, and what he could pick up in a desultory way. The matter was finally compromised by allowing him one term at the Academy some time afterwards.

August 1, 1840, he was married to Jane Atkinson, a worthy young lady of the same county, whose parents were also Quakers, she being a birth-right member, and they were both disowned for accomplishing their marriage contrary to the church rules.

These were the years in which the anti-slavery question was up for settlement, and he took an active part in the discussion. In 1852 he removed to Marion, the county seat, and established the Mississinewa Gazette, a weekly anti-slavery and temperance paper. Joined the Christian church and commenced preaching. Became a member of the old Bluffton Conference and was ordained at Knightstown by Elders N. Summerbell, Arthur W. Sanford and "blind" John Byrnett. Between the years 1852 and 1863 he was engaged in publishing, occasional preaching, and two years as county treasurer. In 1863 he removed to Fort Wayne and established the Fort Wayne Daily Gazette, which he published for some months, took a partner and after two years finally sold out.

In 1871 he united with the Eel River Christian Conference, held with the Eel River church August 14, and resumed the ministry. At the next session of Conference was chosen presiding officer, which position he held for eleven years, and declined a re-election. In January, 1876, he issued the first number of The Christian Age, which he continued as a monthly and semi-monthly publication for five years. Was the first to propose and advocate the organization of a State Christian Conference; and at the organization at Cassville, Miami county, was chosen its first Secretary. Is now June 1, 1902, enjoying reasonable health, and a comfortable hope of immortality beyond the vale, aged 80 years and 11 months.

REV. HAYNES PARKER

United with this Conference in 1851. His name was dropped in 1854, he having united with the Disciples of Christ.

REV. A. E. KEMP

Second son of B. F. Kemp, was born in Randolph county, Ind., March 7, 1875. He spent his boyhood days upon his father's farm where he improved the opportunities of a common school education. He then completed a high school course after which he went to college to better prepare himself for life's work. At the age of 24 he was married to Miss Ida Roush, of Jordan, Indiana.

While in college he felt impressed to take up the work of the ministry. He spent four years in the classical course, graduating with the degree of A. B. He attributes his standing in life to the religious training of his youth and the influence of God's word of truth.

He is of quiet disposition and unassuming, strong in intellect and grounded in the Christian faith. Early in life he united with the Christian church which he says comes nearest his ideal church (Christ's church.) In 1899 he was received into Eel River Conference as a licentiate and was ordained at Six Mile in 1901. May his future be bright and noble and may many souls be constrained to accept the Savior through his influence.

REV. WILLIAM B. JONES

Was born at Elk Run, Columbiana county, Ohio, 1818. He was educated in common school, joined the church in 1840 and entered the ministry in 1845, being ordained at Danville, Ohio. He became a member of this Conference in 1856 and was a valuable accession because of his superior ability. He did much to build up the Millwood church and remained loyal until his death in 1889.

REV. J. MARTIN MILLER

Was born in Wabash county, Indiana, September 18, 1855. His early boyhood days were spent as a farm hand, helping to support a widowed mother, and attended school during the winter months. He began teaching school in 1874, which profession he followed for 25 years. He attended several normal terms and fitted himself for the teaching of the higher branches in the high schools of Warsaw, Ind.

In 1890, at Sidney, Ind., he united with the Christian church. In 1894 he entered Eel River Conference as a licentiate, and after completing the Conference course of study, was ordained at the Paw Paw church in 1897. In 1899 he was called to the pastorate of the churches at Bluffton and Six Mile, where he did excellent work, especially at Bluffton, where through his efforts the church was cleared of a long standing debt. He is at present the pastor of the Wakarusa and Millwood churches where he has the love, confidence and support of the entire membership. He is a man of sterling qualities, unassuming, but full of the Spirit and anxious for the salvation of souls.

Was born in Wayne county, Ind., in 1845, and died in 1870 at the age of 24 years and 5 months, after an illness of three months. He attended Union College about 6 months. He maintained an untarnished name and died in the triumph of faith, exhorting all his friends to meet him in Heaven.

REV. UZAL KIMBALL

Was born in Perry county, Ohio, in 1819. He united with this Conference in 1872, being ordained the same year. He died in 1898 at the ripe age of 79 years. He worked faithfully up to the time of his death.

REV. J. B. H. KENNISTON

Of Ohio Central Conference united with Eel River Conference in 1851. He was dismissed at a called session in March, 1853.

REV. WILLIAM S. MANVILLE

Was born in Bloomfield, Knox county, Ohio, June 15, 1819. Under peculiar circumstances, when about 20 years of age, he embraced religion desiring no other name but Christian. He was ordained in the Mt. Vernon, Ohio, Conference and for fifteen years preached for the Sparta church within sight of his birthplace. He also served the Appleton, Ohio, church for 15 years.

In 1842 he was married to Catherine Ramey, who has preceded him to Heaven. They moved to Indiana in 1860 and in 1873 he united with Eel River Conference. He served a number of our churches and for three years canvassed the State in the interest of the Christian church. He once held a public discussion with the champion debater, Rev. Miller, of the Dunkard denomination, at the Antioch church, which lasted nine days and at the close it was said by those hearing the debate that Bro. Manville had gained every point. Though now 83 years of age, Bro. M. is still vigorous in thought and loves to dwell upon the following favorite thoughts: "Christ the Vine, we the branches;" "Christ the bridegroom, the church the bride;" "A little leaven leavens the whole lump;" "Christ the head of the body, the church." He resides at Valparaiso, Indiana.

REV. LEVI MARKS

Was born in Bedford, Pa., in 1828. He was converted and joined the church in 1851. He entered Conference in 1882 and was ordained the following year. He acted as pastor of Spring Hill, Pleasant Hill and Millwood. Though now aged and feeble he is still preaching. He has been quite successful in his work, being a Holy Ghost preacher. He is now only waiting the Master's call.

REV. VAN RANSLER MILLER

Was born on a farm in Cass county, Michigan. His father, a Christian minister, was one of the earliest settlers in that county. His grandfather was a Baptist minister, while his great grandfather and great great grandfather were both Dunkard ministers. Bro. Miller was raised on a farm, receiving a country school education. On his 21st birthday he was married to Mary E. Dickinson, of Goshen, Ind. To this union three children were born, Floyd Owen, Seymore Allen and Rose, who is now the wife of J. C. Swartz, Chicago. At the age of 24, Bro. Miller left the farm, moved to Goshen and learned the blacksmith trade, at which he worked more or less for 20 years. In 1867 he was converted and united with the Methodist church. In 1871 he moved back into the country, working at his trade and taking an active part in Sabbath school work. He was licensed to exhort in 1875, and in 1877 he withdrew from the M. E. church joining the Christian church, the church of his father, and in August of that year was ordained a minister. Since 1882 he has resided in Goshen, working at his trade and preaching occasionally, until 1899, since which time he has been devoted entirely to preaching the gospel. His first regular charges were, Millwood, where he received fifty persons into the church in his first revival; Spring Hill, and in Hillsdale county, Michigan. He has been eminently successful as a pastor and revivalist and has perhaps been instrumental in bringing more persons into the church than any minister of this Conference, now living, having received as many as ninety-four in one year. Physically he is a fine specimen of manhood. He is possessed of a kindly disposition and is earnest, eloquent and reverent in his chosen work.

REV. CHRISTOPHER C. MORRIS

Was born in Wayne county, Ind., June 28, 1814. He was raised a strict Quaker. At the age of 22, when there was division among the Society of Friends, he was led to think seriously upon religious matters.

In 1840 he moved to Huntington county locating in a settlement of Friends about six miles west of the City of Huntington. Later he moved into the city and united with the Baptists, there being no Society of Friends in the city at that time. He soon began preaching for the Baptists, and teaching public school during the winter months.

In the fall of 1847 he went to Warren and preached for the few Baptists residing there. There being no other churches of this denomination near, the Conference paid no attention to it and it soon ceased to exist. Brother Morris then united with the Disciples of Christ and labored with them several years, until as a congregation, they ceased to exist.

In 1874 during a great revival conducted by Rev. D. W. Fowler, in Warren, Brother Morris asked to be received as a member and to be put to work. He was gladly welcomed and at once set out in the Christian ministry, continuing faithfully to declare the Christian principles until he went from labor to reward, September 22, 1887, which was soon after the annual Conference with the Broadway church. In 1877, Brother Morris laid the corner stone for the first Christian church at Warren, the one which was torn down in the spring of 1902 to be replaced by a new temple of worship. He also was a great Sabbath School worker and assisted in organizing the first Sabbath School in Warren, acting as Superintendent for two years. Besides, he was a very active temperance worker. His influence as an untiring worker in the Master's cause will always be felt in Eel River Christian Conference.

REV. JONATHAN MARKLEY

Who resides at Murray, Ind., united with this Conference in 1869 as a licentiate. He was elected President in 1870 and was ordained two years later. He has done much, not only to sustain his own church, but in building up others of the Conference. He has preached many funerals and while not actively engaged in the ministry is always ready to bear his part of the work.

REV. WILLIAM MILES

At the age of 20 he united with the Bentonville, Fayette county, Ind., M. E. church and served the church as steward for a short time. Shortly afterward, on moving to Blackford county, not being able at that time to reconcile his religious views with the doctrines of the M. E. church, and becoming more intimately acquainted with the Christian church, he united himself with that body in February, 1857. He united with Eel River Conference at the Antioch church in 1872, and has been a faithful preacher of the tenets of the Christian church until within recent years. Although he has not been able to preach regularly in recent years on account of physical disability, he has unbounded zeal for the principles of the church of his choice. William received his education in his native state where school advantages were very meagre. He was converted at the age of 16 and united with the Missionary Baptist church, having had no acquaintance with other denominations except the Methodist church of which his father was a member. His mother was a Baptist and Brother Parker made this church his choice believing as he still does that immersion is the Apostolic mode of baptism.

At the close of the civil war, with his mother and three sisters, he came to Indiana (1867) and settled in Madison county near Summittville where he was employed on a farm. He soon heard of the Christian church and after investigating her doctrines, he became a charter member of the Clarktown Christian church which congregation recommended him to the Miami Reserve Conference. He was licensed to preach and in 1874 he was ordained. He has served the following churches as pastor: Clarktown, Whetstone Chapel, Harrisville, Prairieville, Olivet, Mt. His ministry covered a period of thirty years, making his reports regularly. He was twice married and died at his home at Wawaka in 1900, aged nearly 63 years. In 1888 he withdrew from Eel River Conference and is now a member of a Michigan Conference, residing at Grand Rapids.

REV. JACOB M. RITTGERS

Was born in Hocking county, Ohio, February 7, 1847. He grew up on a farm until, on his fifteenth birthday, February 7, 1862, when he offered his services to his country and enlisted as a volunteer in Company F, Second Ohio Heavy Artillery, being attached to the Army of the Cumberland in the famous march to the sea. He remained in the service until the close of the war. Returning home in the fall of 1865 he at once entered the high school at Logan, Ohio, and completed the course of study in 1871. He then engaged in school teaching, continuing in that profession 16 years. In 1884 he was ordained a minister of the Gospel in the Brethren church, in the interest of which church he labored for ten years, being considered one of the best doctrinal preachers among them. For seven years of this time he did evangelistic work and succeeded in organizing a number of strong churches in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, and adding to the church over 600 souls.

Having become acquainted with the Christian church and her broad principles, Brother Rittgers was impressed that such liberal principles of practical christian living should be taught to the world. True to his convictions, he united with the Christian church at Huntington in 1895, being received by Rev. Mary A. Strickland. In August of the same year he was received into Eel River Christian Conference at Warren, Ind., as an ordained minister. Brother Rittgers has continually had all the work he could do. He has served as pastor of Benna Vista, Six Mile, Murray, Plum Tree and Dunfee churches.

August 20, 1868, he was married to Frances Red and to them were born six sons and one daughter. Two sons have passed to the spirit world. Eugene, Cleophas, Frank, Harley and Miss Maude have grown to manhood and womanhood, hold the respect of all who know them, and are all members of the Christian church. Brother Rittgers is yet in the prime of life, strong and vigorous, both physically and mentally. With Paul he can truly say, "Forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." W. J. Y.

REV. D. B. ROLLEN

Was born in Columbia, Tenn., in 1855. He united with this Conference, a licentiate in 1881. He preached some and reported regularly until March, 1888, when at a session of the executive board held at Leesburg, four charges were preferred against him. He surrendered his license rather than stand trial.

REV. MARY G. RHEUBOTTOM

Was born in Snubury, Ohio, August 20, 1849, but moved to LaGrange, Ind., with her parents when quite young. Her education was acquired at the LaGrange Collegiate Institute at Ontario, under the tutorage of Professor Rufus Patch, from which institution she graduated.

In April, 1886, she was married to James R. Rhenbottom, to which union was born one son, who is the present editor of the Wakarusa Tribune.

Mrs. Rheubottom has always been interested in the betterment of mankind, and a great believer in the proper training of children, much of her early work being with them in the various juvenile organizations. She was the first President of the Elkhart county W. C. T. U., and delivered many lectures in the cause of temperance. Up to the time of her moving to Wakarusa in 1893, (and where she now resides) she was a member of the M. E. church, but the year following, feeling that she was called to the ministry, united with the Christian church, and at once took charge of the church at Wakarusa as its pastor and served the congregation for two years. Since that time she has had charge of churches at Millersburg, Bellville, Pleasant Hill, Leesburg and North Webster, being at present pastor of the last two named places.

During her ministry she has received into the church between three and four hundred members, her greatest success being at Pleasant Hill, where she received into the church over one hundred members, comprising the very best people of the community, and was instrumental in building at that place a handsome, modern brick church, which is an honor and ornament to the community and has hanging over it no indebtedness.

That she has been successful in her calling, the result of her work speaks louder than any words of emulation we might give. She has always had a heart full of love for the defenders of her country, and has responded to several calls for Decoration Day and Memorial addresses. She is inspirational, which oftentimes raises her to eloquence in address, and her words not only reach the understanding, but the hearts of her hearers. While health and strength lasts she will continue to proclaim the gospel of "Peace on earth and good will to men."

She was ordained at Six Mile near Bluffton in 1901, at the close of Conference held there, after taking the four years course of study as prescribed by the Board of Education. J. R. R.

REV. ELI THOMAS SPOHN

Of North Manchester, was born in Jay county, Ind., May 1, 1859. His father, John Spohn, died the following September. Four years later his mother married Andrew Metheny with whom she now lives in Argos, Ind. Eli was the youngest of four children and spent his boyhood days on the farm. At 25 he was married to Mary Alice Metzger, of Larwill, Ind. They have two children, Mary, aged 17, and Clarence, aged 13.

Brother Spohn was converted when a boy and at the age of 21 preached his first sermon in the old school house in Tippecanoe, Ind., in a meeting held by Rev. Reed, a Christian minister. He was a member of the M. E. church until 1899 when he, with his family, united with the North Manchester Christian church. He served this church as pastor one year, and while not now having any pastoral work he is assisting other pastors very acceptably. He was admitted to Conference in 1901 as an ordained minister. He is a man of wide experience and excellent ability.

REV. C. V. STRICKLAND

Was born in Easton, Pa., in 1848. At the early age of 14 he enlisted as a drummer boy in the Union army serving about two years. He was wounded in the battle of Chancellorsville and later spent four months a prisoner of war in Libby at Richmond. A few years after the close of the war he came to Indiana. In 1877 he entered Eel River Conference at Sngar Grove church near Collamer as a licentiate. The next year at Murray, he was ordained. Rev. George Abbott, who had received both Brother and Sister Strickland into the Christian church at Wakarusa and who baptized them, acted as forman of the ordination committee.

Brother Strickland has been in the active work ever since, nearly all his time being given to churches in Eel River and the North Western Indiana Conferences. For about 18 months he labored in Iowa and was a member of the DesMoines Conference.

He has met with good success. One year's work should receive special notice. Assisted by his wife, meetings were held at Argos, Burrows, Shiloh and Eel River, all in the North Western Conference, when nearly 400 members were received into the churches mentioned. Although this was a year of great blessings, other excellent meetings have been held by them.

He is still in the active work as pastor of several churches and resides for the second time in Huntington which is to be his last place of residence upon earth. He and his family are members of the Huntington church. He is a member of the N. W. I. Conference but as he resides within the bounds of Eel River the probabilities are that he will bring his membership back at the next annual session.

He has been interested in music, practically all his life, having made it a special study. His publications of Gospel song books, Anthem books, Children's Day and Christmas programs, etc., have reached a wide circulation. His name, especially among our own people has become a household word because of his wide acquaintance and the many beautiful songs he has written.

REV. JOSEPH SPENCER

Was received into conference in 1848. He presided over several sessions and was a man of talent aiding largely in building up our cause. He was granted a letter of commendation and dismissal in 1856.

REV. WILLIAM C. SMITH

Of the Jefferson Christian church, Cass county, Mich., was received a licentiate in 1852. His name was dropped in 1855, having moved to Bloomington, Ill.

REV. MARY A. STRICKLAND

Has been in the ministry during the past 18 years. While her husband was pastor at Bluffton, Ind., she was encouraged to speak in public, which she did, showing such marked ability that the congregation urged her to enter the ministry. She entered this Conference as a licentiate in 1884 and was ordained at Wakarusa in 1885, Rev. George Abbott acting as chairman of the ordaining committee. Ever since she has been serving as pastor of different churches and besides doing much special evangelistic work. Brother and Sister Strickland have generally arranged their work so that they could both serve the same churches, thus having a convenient double work. Mrs. Strickland has always had more calls than she could serve and has met with marvelous success, loved by all her people. During the past few years her work has been so extensive that she required an assistant. Miss Emma Isenberg has been her companion in much of her work as Brother Strickland could not be with her in all her meetings on account of his many duties. During the past winter (1901-02) she has received nearly 100 members into the church.

She is the mother of two sons and one daughter, who are grown and caring for themselves. She has a model home which she enjoys very much at such times when she can be there. It is often said that Brother and Sister Strickland are a power in a meeting, he to do the singing and she the preaching. She is at present a member of the North Western Indiana Conference and belongs to the Huntington Christian church.

Mrs. Strickland has a summer cottage on Lake Manitau where she often recuperates in taking needed rest. This in no way interferes with her work as she can reach her appointments from there. May the Lord spare her for many years in the Master's cause.

REV. JOHN H. SINGER

Of North Manchester, Ind., came recommended by the Antioch church and was accepted as a licentiate in 1876. He was ordained at the Union church in 1880. She entered Eel River Conference as a licentiate in 1896 and was ordained at Paw Paw in 1897.

She very acceptably served the Bellville and Olivet churches as pastor, and has assisted largely in building up the church at Elkhart, her home, giving much of her means and time to its welfare.

U. She is an able lecturer and writes much for the newspapers. She is an untiring worker for reformation and the establishment of the gospel.

In 1895 she went to London as a delegate to the World's W. C. T. U. convention for Indiana, and visited some interesting points in Europe. Sister Tompkins has a paying millinery business in Elkhart, and makes the money she spends in the Lord's cause, for she says it is His. She is also the president of the Women's Home and Foreign Mission Board of this Conference.

REV. HILEY BAKER

Previous to the time of his conversion, in 1898 under the preaching of Rev. David Hidy, he was an active worker in the church and a teacher of a class of young ladies, five of whom were converted the following winter.

In November 1900 he began his work in the course of study as adopted by the Eel River Christian Conference. Was granted license in August 1901 and is still pursuing the course. He is the present pastor of the Thorn Creek Christian church.

 REV. CHARLES F. WOOD

Was licensed in 1851 and ordained in 1858. Two years later he asked for a letter and united with the Northern Indiana and Southern Michigan Conference.

REV. WILSON D. SAMUEL

Was born in Madison county, Ind., April 29, 1851. He was the son of William Samuel, whose godly life and stalwart character were in large measure given to his son. His mother was a deeply pious woman, in whose prayers were found the best safe-guard and richest possibilities for his youth time and early manhood. From a mother's prayers a boy seldom breaks away, for into his life she so thoroughly breathes the fervor of her soul, the strength of her life and the love of her heart, that he finds himself firmly moored. Whether fortunate or otherwise, he was left fatherless when but sixteen years old and upon his young heart and inexperienced hands were laid the duties and obligations of the home, all of which he discharged with a bravery and promptness which have characterized all his life's work. It is the misfortune of some children that their fathers survive their infancy, and as the great and good Garfield said in speaking of his own experience, "Nine times out of ten, the best thing that can happen to a young man is to be cast overboard and be compelled to sink or swim for himself." In such an emergency, the really worthy show the fiber of their souls and the stuff of which they are made. By a large majority, the world's messiahs of science, of law, of literature, of medicine, of benevolence, have been compelled to depend upon themselves and God for the success of every undertaking, among whom may be numbered Rev. W. D. Samuel.

He was married to Mary J. Funk, of Wabash county, Ind., September 17, 1871, to whom he has been a husband, true and tried, obeying the divine injunction, "Husbands, love your wives." He has received from his devoted wife only that confidence and inspiration which a true husband so thoroughly appreciates, and which a gospel preacher so much needs. He was converted to God and joined the Eel River Christian church in 1874, then under the pastoral care of Rev. David Hidy, who has a warm place in his heart today, as he has had through all these years. A conviction to preach the gospel, with the earnest request of those who recognized his ability, led him to enter the ministry in 1876, he preaching his first sermon December 24th of that year. He joined the Eel River Conference and was given license in August, 1877, and was ordained at Murray, Ind., August, 1878, Revs. James Atchison, George Abbott, David Hidy, Thomas Whitman and Peter Winebrenner officiating. He has served his Conference in many official capacities, of which mention may be made of a two years presidency and four years as secretary. He served a term of four years as president of the Indiana State Conference, in all of which he acquitted himself with honor and dealt impartially with all questions and parties.

For the first four years of his ministry he coupled with his work as pastor, the duties of the farm. This condition of his early life, when churches failed to compensate their servants and the lack of a pastorate system necessitated many weary miles of travel, demonstrated the piety, heroism and Christian loyalty of the man who endured such hardness without the thought of giving up. He has had charge, beside the country churches of his early ministry of some of the best churches of the west, including Bluffton, North Manchester and Warren in Indiana, and Covington and Eaton in Ohio, the last named being his present charge. He was elected President of the Christian Publishing Association in 1898, but soon resigned the position to become its Agent and a member of its Board of Trustees. His success as an Agent is clearly established by the records of "The House" but it was to him an unpleasant task, for the reason that he felt called of God to preach the gospel, and not to keep accounts and sell books. He gave up the agency to accept the call to Eaton, but still retains his membership on the Board of Trustees. His frankness, kindness, sincerity and honest dealings have won for him not only the esteem of the churches, but of his fellow laborers in the holy calling. The pulpit is his throne and never did king occupy it with greater dignity or happier heart than does he. He is blessed with a good voice which he knows how to use, not only in sermon but in song as well, and of the fifteen hundred souls he has received into fellowship, it may be that the song has shared equal with the sermon. In the pulpit he is graceful and dignified in his movements and delivery, and withal deeply earnest and impressive. His sermons are biblical and well illustrated. His style is vigorous but not boistrous. His pronunciation is distinct, his language choice and his utterance deliberate. His thoughts are fresh and forceful, his argumentation close and commanding, and his rhetoric inspiring and brilliant. He teaches practical lessons, drops golden thoughts, keeps his hearers interested. No one listening to his well prepared sermons delivered as they are, with heart and voice all aglow and countenance flushed with fervor, would ever think that his early education was limited to a few months in the district school. But it was, yet he has been a student of books and men, and may in a very correct sense be called an educated man. He is progressive in all his plans, occupying advanced positions all along the lines of church work, and when one has come up to where he is, he has come near the front line of our ministry. As John G. Whittier said of Vice President Wilson, so may we say of Wilson D. Samuel:

"The lowliest born of all the land,
He wrung from Fate's reluctant hand
The gifts which happier boyhood claims;
And, tasting on a thankless soil
The bitter bread of unpaid toil,
He fed his soul with noble aims.

By the low hearth-fire's fitful blaze
He read of old heroic days.
The sage's thought, the patriot's speech;
Unhelped, alone, himself he taught,
His school the craft at which he wrought,
His lore the book within his reach.

With glance intuitive he saw
Through all disguise of form and law,
And read men like an open book;
Fearless and firm, he never quailed
Nor turned aside for threats, nor failed
To do the thing he undertook."

Coming west in 1875, he settled in Indiana, uniting later with Eel River Christian Conference. He has been the able pastor of some of our best churches and is at present acceptably serving North Manchester, New Madison and Antioch. He is thoroughly in harmony with the principles of the Christian church and takes great delight in preaching them to the people. Though having spent more than forty years in preaching and teaching, he is still young in physical and mental activities. He is a thorough believer in an intelligent, educated, God-fearing ministry.

Winebrenner, in the ministry. He, with Elders Gregory and Zeigler, recommended P. Winebrenner to Conference. David Winebrenner was the means of the organization of the Merriam church. He having heard of Rev. Peter Banta being at the Waterford church, Elkhart county, met Brother Banta there, succeeded in getting him to come to Wolf Lake and organize what is now known as the Merriam Christian church. His home was ever a home for gospel ministers, he did more for the Master's cause than some who were preaching. He was a warm exhorter and sometimes took a text from which to speak. In one sense, we may call him the father of the Merriam church.

Of Merriam, Ind., was born in Liberty, Montgomery county, Ohio, October 6, 1826, and moved to Noble county, Indiana in the year 1837. He received a common school education and special tutorage from David Sanford and from Jonathan Elliott.

Elder Winebrenner is a self-made man, having acquired his learning by close application, and hard study. He taught until he entered the ministry as a licentiate in 1857. Was ordained at the Clearcreek Christian church in 1858. Ordaining committee, Elders Moses McDaniel, James H. Gregory, Thomas Whitman. He has mastered the German and Greek languages and partially mastered the Latin.

By invitation he has preached in the cities of Philadelphia, and Brooklyn, also in Canada. He spoke at the dedication of the School of the Prophets at Stanfordville, N. Y. He also preached at the Quadriennial Convention in Oshawa, Canada, in 1869.

Rev. Winebrenner was pastor of the Merriam Christian church from 1869-1889.

besides this long pastorate of twenty years in succession, he preached for this church monthly for a couple of years and was its pastor again at a later period for two years. He has also had charge of the Warren, Clearcreek, Murray, Kelso, Sidney, Leesburg, Millwood, Goshen and other churches of Eel River Conference. And was pastor of the Argos church in the North Western Conference for several years.

Rev. Winebrenner was elected secretary of the Conference in the year 1869, which office he held until Conference accepted his resignation in 1893, with the following resolution:

Resolved—"That this Conference tender a vote of thanks to Rev. Winebrenner for his faithful twenty-four years work as secretary of this Conference."

Elder Winebrenner has held four theological discussions. One in Newport, Page county, Virginia, where he met Elders Corliss and Lane. Seven day advents, (Lane was a brother of S. H. Lane, Advent minister of Indiana), he here arranged with them to discuss the Sabbath question, which discussion was held in 1877, beginning May 9th and ending May 12th, lasting four days, three sessions each day, forenoon, afternoon and night. Each speaking two hours each session. The first two days Corliss affirmed the Decalogue Sabbath as binding upon Christians in its sacred observance, Winebrenner denied. The last two days Winebrenner affirmed the sacred observance of the first day of the week, Corliss denied. This discussion resulted in the Advents abandoning that part of the country. He also discussed the same question with Adventist William Covert, near Anderson, Indiana, in a Disciple church. D. W. Fowler and G. Abbott were present at this discussion. He also discussed the same question with S. H. Lane, Advent, at Wolf Lake, Indiana. The fourth discussion was with Comstock, Advent minister at Nelson, Cloud county, Kansas, in the year 1879. Subject—"Resolved that the Kingdom of Heaven is set upon earth." Winebrenner affirmed. Resolved, "That the Scriptures teach that the soul of man is unconscious after death." Affirmed by Comstock. The result was the founding of a Christian church at that place. He visited Thayer, Iowa, to discuss in connection with Abbott, but opponents abandoned the field, therefore no discussion was held.

Elders Winebrenner and G. Abbott were co-workers together in the field of discussion and assisted each other in eight discussions. Winebrenner was usually a mild speaker, seldom giving out a challenge, but when challenged readily accepted, and was ever ready. The Seven Day Advents were eager to challenge, proclaiming that none dare discuss those questions with them, which they claimed, proved that they were right. But after a few days of the above discussions with them they ceased challenging and refused to debate. Then, too, their prophetess, Ellen G. White, found that discussions were not profitable. Hence they stopped.

Elder Winebrenner during his forty-three years ministry has received over one thousand persons into church fellowship. Preached some four thousand sermons, always having charges, with no vacation except as sickness gave it. And now at the age of 75 years, by the blessing of the Divine Father and Son, he is still in the work and able to preach, and expects to continue preaching while the Master sees fit to give life and strength, and the people are willing to hear.

REV. W. D. SAMUEL,
Pastor Christian Church, Eaton, Ohio.

ELDER THOMAS WHITMAN

Was born in Darke county, Ohio, in 1823. He was educated in the common schools, and was converted and joined the Christian church in 1837. He entered the ministry in 1840 and was ordained at Fort Recovery, Ohio, in 1844.

When he first visited Eel River Conference in 1850, he was a member of the Tippecanoe Christian Conference. In 1852 he united with Eel River Conference and delivered the closing address of the session. Elder Whitman has been an ordained minister for 58 years and a faithful servant in Eel River Conference for 50 years. About the year 1853 he established a home near the Union Christian church, where he still resides. His home was ever a home for his ministering brethren. His good christian wife always took special pains to make it a pleasant and comfortable home for the weary pilgrim.

Elder Whitman has been an able sermonizer and exhorter and, though advanced in years, he is yet able in his preaching. His ability was recognized by this Conference in its annual session in 1899 when he was appointed to preach the Christian doctrine throughout its bounds, showing the implicit confidence in his ability to set forth and defend our beloved principles.

REV. G. W. TREASTOR

He united with the Wakarusa Christian church in 1887. In 1889 he was married to Nettie Nusbaum Clay.

During the summer of 1895 he began the course of study outlined by this Conference and was admitted to Eel River Conference as a licentiate at its session at Warren. In 1897 he completed the course and was ordained in Father Amber's grove near the Paw Paw church. At this session he was elected assistant secretary, which office he held four years. He has been especially active in the interests of Christian Endeavor, having had charge of that department of Conference work since 1895. His first pastorate was his home church at Wakarusa, which he served acceptably one year, when he took charge of the Huntington and Clear Creek churches, serving the latter three years, and is now giving full time to the Huntington church. He was selected by this church as her pastor for the coming year, 1902-03, but soon afterward resigned his pastorate to take effect in August, 1902, that he might accept a call from the Conneaut, Ohio, Christian church. The resignation of Rev. Young was with reluctance accepted by the Huntington church.

Brother Young's work is characterized by earnest consecration and activity in every department; which, united with his genial disposition makes him generally loved and respected by all who know him. He is one of our rising young ministers with bright prospects for his future.

J. F. B.

REV. PHILIP ZEIGLER

Of the Miami, Ohio, Christian Conference, visited the Eel River Conference in 1850. The next year he united with it and was chosen a number of times to give the annual address. In 1855 he was chosen president.

He was one of the pioneers of the Merriam church which was known in an early day as the Christian church near Wolf Lake. His wife was a daughter of Rev. Father Miles and Rev. William Miles was her brother. She was a noble Christian woman. In 1868 Brother Zeigler moved with his family to Wabash where he acted as pastor of the Christian church. From Wabash he removed to McLallen's Corners, Erie county, Pa., where he served as pastor of a church. Here his second wife died and was brought to Merriam for burial. In Conference session of 1894 a letter was received from him and read before the body. He spoke of his former relations with this body when not a church building was to be found in the conference field and only a few hundred members. He said that he had preached 3,500 sermons and had received over 700 persons into the Conference. And that when he dies his remains are to be brought to the Merriam cemetery. He also requested that one of the following brethren officiate at his funeral: Winebrenner, Whitman, Atchison, Hidy or Samuel. Just one year after receiving this communication, while conference was in session at Warren a message came asking for one of the above named brethren to preach his funeral. Rev. Winebrenner responded. Thus was his request granted.

He had a weak body being a cripple all his life. Yet undaunted he went on. And often in his younger days he was thrown from his horse while riding to his appointments rendering him almost helpless. Still he ceased not to preach Christ and him crucified until his death. He was an able preacher and an upright citizen. He left two sons and two daughters. One of his sons, William Zeigler, is a faithful member of the Merriam church.

JAMES FRANK BARNES

Very few members of the Christian churches of Eel River Christian Conference in recent years have struggled more nobly to achieve success in life and an honored position among men than has the subject of this sketch. Although surrounded by many discouragements in his boyhood days yet by an indomitable will and unceasing energy he has built for himself a noble christian character and has won the esteem and respect of all who know him.

J. F. Barnes was born in Huntington county, Ind., November 26, 1862. He is the son of John and Malinda Barnes, who are still living and reside near Huntington, Ind. His early life was spent on the farm, attending district school in winter and working at the usual farm work in the summer. He early developed an earnest desire for an education and improved all his leisure time in reading and study, often studying until late at night that he might accomplish his cherished desire of fitting himself to teach. In this he was successful having secured his first teacher's license at the age of twenty. From this time on he continued to teach for fifteen consecutive years, usually two and three terms in succession in the same district. He was united in marriage with Lucy A. Stewart, March 29, 1885. To this union four children have been born, all of whom are living.

He was chosen a member of the Conference Executive Board at Warren in 1895, which position he has held continuously ever since. At the session held in 1896 he was elected assistant secretary and the year following was elected to the office of Conference Secretary which position he still holds. He also served as Secretary-Treasurer of the Eel River Sunday School Association from 1896 to 1899. His work has always been characterized by energy and faithfulness in all its phases. He has been superintendent of the Huntington Christian Sunday School for the past ten years and has been very successful in building up this part of the church work. He is also serving as treasurer of the Huntington church at the present time. On January 1, 1899, he resigned his position as teacher and entered the county treasurer's office as deputy, which responsible position he is still filling with the hearty approval of both his employer and the public in general.

He united with the Huntington Christian church in 1891, of which he has been a faithful and active member ever since. He is one of those men that can meet and overcome opposition and at the same time exhibit that high type of christian manhood that is always a joy to behold. Mr. Barnes is now in the prime of life and it is to be hoped that he will be spared many days, as he is a strong support to our church and Conference.

O. W. W.

JOHN BURNS

Was born in Clark county, Ohio, and moved with his parents to Elkhart county, Ind., in 1832, where he assisted his step-father to erect the first flouring mill on the Elkhart river in that county.

The Christian church at Waterford was organized October 9, 1842, and in November of that year he united with the church and was chosen as one of her deacons, in which capacity he served until his death, which occurred October 17, 1878. He was 63 years of age at the time of his death and left a devoted wife, three sons and four daughters, who sorrow not as those who have no hope.

Brother Burns was a careful and prayerful student of the Bible and tried to live according to its teachings. He was a good man, with an unimpeachable character. He was industrious and frugal in his own affairs, leaving besides an untarnished name, the farm which he settled and cleared, to his family. He was a wise counsellor in the affairs of the church and the financial affairs were always entrusted to him. His funeral procession was thought by some to be the largest ever seen in the county. Elder W. S. Manville conducted the services and preached from I Thess. 4:13-14.

SYLVESTER BLACKMAN

Son of Elisha and Amy Blackman, was born in York township, Noble county, Ind., October 6, 1842. He was reared on his father's farm until December 23, 1863, when he enlisted in Co. B, 12th Indiana Volunteer Infantry. He faithfully served his country twenty months, or until the close of the war. He was with Sherman in his famous march to the sea and was in a number of the fiercest battles of the Rebellion. He was honorably discharged at Louisville, Ky., July 15, 1865. Since the war he has prospered in farming and now owns a beautiful farm of 177 acres in his native township. He was married to Mary J. Burns, Oct. 29, 1869. To this union seven children have been born: Ella, the wife of Emmet Black; Joseph E., Frank E., William, Gertrude, Thaddeus G. and Anna E.

Brother Blackman and wife are both loyal members of the Sparta Christian church. He is also a member of the Masonic and Knights of Pythias orders and a member of Warden Post, No. 205, G. A. R. He was elected a Trustee of Eel River Conference, August, 1899.

JONAS W. AND OLIVE GRIFFITH

Of Warren, Ind., have been members of the Christian church for twenty years, uniting under the labors of Elder J. L. Puckett. Their christian life has ever been marked by loyalty and self-sacrificing zeal in the service of Christ. In the days when the church most needed encouragement, they were faithful. Brother Griffith has served the church as Sunday School Superintendent at different times and has ever been concerned for its spiritual welfare. Since he was chosen deacon, he has used his office well and maintained great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus. Sister Griffith has served the church for the past twelve years on the financial and missionary committees. She has been teaching the infant class for seventeen years and is also identified with the home class and cradle roll departments of the S. S. work, having for some time been superintendent of the cradle roll department of 82 members and is taking great interest in the little ones. Her labors have also been of a general character, having canvassed for the Herald of Gospel Liberty and otherwise serving the publishing house in many ways.

Brother and Sister Griffith are in the prime of life and have the promise of many years of useful and happy service in the Master's vineyard. They both have a wide acquaintance within the bounds of Eel River Conference.

Despite the poor school facilities afforded in his childhood and youth he gained a liberal education. Having been reared a farmer, he has followed that vocation all his life and is today one of the most progressive farmers of Chester township and possesses a well improved farm of 160 acres. He is a public spirited man, an earnest, honest, christian citizen and holds the respect of not only his immediate neighbors but of all who know him.

He is deeply interested in the affairs of his township and is a strong supporter of the public schools and takes no little interest in politics and in the permanent improvement of the public roads. He has been a member of the board of drainage commissioners of his county since 1898, is one of the trustees of the Indiana State Bank, of North Manchester, and, socially, is an enthusiastic member of the Knights of Pythias and Knights of the Maccabees. In 1884 he married his Sunday School teacher and together, on December 28, 1886, they united with the church. His parents and three sisters also united at the same time, all under the labors of Elder George Abbott.

Brother Doll has been an enthusiastic Sunday School worker all his life and, since uniting with the church, has been either a superintendent or a teacher continually, and attributes his present standing due to being constantly engaged in responsible places. He has an excellent family of five children and says if needs be he can have a Sunday School of his own at home, his eldest being an excellent organist, and all good singers. He is a man of strong Christian characteristics and full of the grit and courage that will enable him to stand until the end.

Was born August 7, 1842, near Liberty Mills, Ind., where he lived until about five years of age when he moved with his parents to Ohio, here he resided until grown to manhood.

On the call of President Lincoln for troops, young Dorsey at once responded and enlisted in the 87th Ohio Volunteers. He remained with his regiment until Harper's Ferry surrendered in September, 1862, at which time he was taken a prisoner of war. Later in the war he again enlisted, this time in the 35th Indiana, with this regiment he served about one year. In 1863 Mr. Dorsey moved to Indiana settling near Oswego where he has made his home ever since, now nearly thirty-four years.

Mr. Dorsey has been a member of the Christian church nearly twenty-five years and has been among her most staunch supporters. To this union four children have been born, Lois, Howard, Lloyd and Ruth.

Brother Jones united with the Clear Creek Christian church in December, 1895, and together with his faithful wife, has since been thoroughly devoted to his Master and to the best interests of the church. There is not a more loyal member of the Christian church to be found than Brother Jones. He has been variously connected with his local church officially and is at present serving as church clerk and superintendent of the Sunday School. At the session of Conference with the Six Mile church, in 1901, he was elected a member of the Executive Board. He resides on an excellent farm of his own in Clear Creek township, Huntington county, and by his thrift, economy, practical sense and sound judgment, is succeeding well, holding the respect of his neighbors and of all who know him. He is as liberal with his gifts to the interests of his church as his means will justify and is exceedingly anxious for the material and spiritual welfare of our beloved Zion.

W. J. Y.

Mr. Humbarger is an active church worker and one of the substantial supporters of his church. His prominence in his own church led to his election as a member of the Board of Trustees at the annual Conference held at Sparta in August, 1899, to fill the unexpired term of Joseph Knight. At the end of this short term he was re-elected for the full term of three years at Millersburg in 1900. As an officer of Conference he is painstaking and conservative, a worthy member of the board.

Brother La Fong is a prosperous farmer and a conscientious Christian gentleman.

JOHN P. KITT

Was born in Clark county, Ohio, August 14, 1825, and with his parents emigrated to Noble county, Ind., in 1846, settling upon the farm where he now resides. He was married to Elizabeth Hively, January 6, 1853, she having been born in Fairfield, Ohio, May 3, 1830, and having come to Indiana with her parents in 1840. To this union were born ten children, six sons and four daughters, of which number two daughters and one son died in infancy. Brother Kitt united with the Merriam Christian church in 1861, and has been a faithful member of the church, filling several of its offices and aiding in the erection of two places of worship, the first a frame and the second the present substantial brick. He has always been liberal in helping to defray the expenses of the church in all of her departments. Unless hindered by sickness, he has always attended all services of the church and Sabbath School, being active in the Master's cause. Brother Kitt has aided very materially in building up Eel River Christian Conference, both with his means and attendance at Conference session, having missed but one session since becoming a member.

He was elected treasurer of Conference in 1871 and served until 1888. He also acted as assistant secretary for twenty-six years, from 1865 to 1891. He also served on the Executive Board two terms and by virtue of his office was president of the Board. "Uncle" John P. Kitt, as he is familiarly known by those who are delighted to greet his presence at each succeeding Conference session, has certainly been loyal to and zealous in his church's interests. We need many more such earnest, honest workers in the Lord's vineyard.

THOMAS JOHN

Was born in Jackson township, Huntington county, Ind., May 11, 1855. He moved with his mother to Kosciusko county, Ind., in September, 1866. He was married to Alice Swihart, May 18, 1876. They are the parents of three children, the eldest a daughter, Edith, was taken across the mystic River in her infancy. Mable Pearl Dunbar and Lewis J., a daughter and son, still survive. Brother John united with the Pleasant Grove Christian church in the year 1889, under the ministry of Rev. R. L. Amber. He was superintendent of the Pleasant Grove Sunday School for eight years. He served as treasurer of the Eel River Conference seven years. Is at present president of the North Manchester district of the Eel River Christian Conference Sunday School Association.

Brother John is an industrious farmer, having a fine farm and beautiful residence home near the church. His family are bright and intelligent, good entertainers, and have the happy faculty of making it pleasant for their guests. Brother John makes a specialty along with his farming of dealing in fine stock, and many beautiful horses are sent to the market from his stables. He has also found time during his busy life to study music in which he has become quite proficient. He is not only a fine singer, but is somewhat of a composer, as his published productions show. Mable, the daughter, is an accomplished pianist, a lady with many natural as well as cultivated gifts. Lewis, the youngest of the family, is a bright young man, educating himself for usefulness in which he cannot help but succeed.

Mrs. John is a woman of rare qualities, kindly of disposition, and her beautiful home tells of her tastes and culture. Their home has always welcomed to its kindly hospitality the ministers who may have had occasion to be their pastor, in which the writer has often shared.

Brother John is respected by all who know him, is a man of thought and good judgment, is apparently just in the prime of life and bids fair to live to good, honorable and ripe old age. The entire family have always been deeply interested in the welfare and prosperity of the home church and doing their utmost for its upbuilding and are good supporters. May the good Lord aid them in their loving work.

CALVIN PERDUE

Was born in Jackson township, Wells county, Ind., February 16, 1873. He is the son of Rev. William Perdue, of Warren, Ind. In 1892 he graduated from the high school of Warren. The next year was spent in mastering the details of book-keeping and business in the Indianapolis Business University. In 1894 he studied in the Normal College at Danville, Ind., during two terms. After returning to his home in Warren he began farming, in which he has ever since been engaged. He takes great interest in agricultural pursuits, and has been quite successful in producing various kinds of small fruits.

During the pastorate of Rev. John L. Puckett he united with the Christian church, and has been an active worker therein ever since.

Since the organization of the Christian Endeavor among the younger members of the Warren Christian church Mr. Perdue has taken a great interest in that work. For several terms he was president of the society. In 1900 he was elected C. E. evangelist of the Eel River Christian Conference, and was re-elected in 1901. He was elected recording secretary of the Fort Wayne district C. E. Union at the 16th annual convention held in Bluffton, December 31, 1901, and January 1, 1902. At the session of the Eel River Christian Conference held at Six Mile church, August, 1901, he was elected assistant secretary of Conference.

A. J. MAYS

Was born near the town of Millersburg, Ind., October 22, 1869. He attended district school until 19 years of age. Two years later he entered Union Christian College, Merom, Ind., where he remained two years, completing the commercial course. He united with the Millersburg Christian church in 1892 under the labors of Rev. J. J. Copeland, and still remains a faithful working member of that church. May 29, 1892, he was married to Miss Bertha B. Boroughs, of Merom, Ind., and together they took up their residence at Millersburg. He was elected a trustee of Eel River Conference in 1897, was re-elected in 1900, and has served as secretary of the Board of Trustees during the past four years. He is at present engaged in school teaching and is thoroughly devoted to the interests of the Christian church.

WILLIAM B. KNAPPE

The youngest but one in a family of nine children, was born in Noble county, Ind., April 8, 1851. He was raised on a farm and was educated in the district schools, acquiring a fair education which enabled him to teach for seven winters.

On September 14, 1876, he was married to Zillah A. Neal. Three sons and two daughters have come to bless their home.

Under the labors of Elder P. Winebrenner in the Broadway Christian church in 1874, Brother Knappe was converted and united with the church. In 1875 he was elected the superintendent of the Broadway Sunday School and has served almost continuously in that capacity for twenty-five years. He was elected a trustee of Eel River Conference in 1898, and in 1900 was made treasurer of the Conference, which office he still fills to the satisfaction of all. Brother Knappe is a conscientious christian gentleman, intensely loyal to his church in all her interests.

MARTHA GILL

Wife of Reuben Gill, of Clear Creek township, was born January 14, 1822, in Campbell county, Ky., on a farm near the present town of Maysville. Her parents were John and Nancy Herndon. Her mother died in 1826 and soon after, she with her father, moved to New Richmond, Clermont county, Ohio. Here she lived until her father's death in about 1830. She then lived with her grandmother Herndon until about the year 1837, when she went to live with her uncle, Aaron Gregg, in Bracken county, Ky.

On December 3, 1840, she married Reuben H. Gill and two years later she with her husband moved to Clear Creek township, Huntington county, Ind., where they have lived ever since. She and her husband braved the hardships of pioneer days and have journeyed life's pathway together almost sixty-two years, making for themselves a home for their declining years. Mrs. Gill is the only surviving charter member of the Clear Creek Christian church.

Mrs. Gill has been a faithful and loyal member of this church since the day of its organization in Abraham Kaylor's barn in July, 1856. Although Mrs. Gill has passed the 80th mile stone in life's pilgrimage she takes great interest in her church. While her eyes have grown dim her spiritual vision is unimpaired and she looks forward with longing eyes to catch a glimpse of the "golden shore" where she expects to see her Master whom she has served so faithfully for so many years.

JONATHAN WHITELOCK

One of the most enthusiastic and influential members of the Huntington Christian church was born in Fayette county, Ind., July 8, 1830. He, with his parents, moved to Franklin county when he was a small boy, there he lived until manhood when he went to Wells county where he owned a tract of land. After partly clearing this he traded it for Huntington county land, which he still owns. He was married in February, 1856, to Miss Elizabeth A. Souers, and immediately moved into a log cabin upon his land where he lived for some time. He added to his original piece of land, tract after tract, until he became the owner of one of the largest and best improved farms in Rock Creek township. He with his wife lived on this farm until January, 1894, when they moved to a new residence he had built in the city of Huntington.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitelock were the parents of but one child, a son, O. W. Whitelock, president of this Conference. Mr. and Mrs. Whitelock joined the Plum Tree Christian church in 1875 and at once became leading members of the church, Mr. Whitelock being one of the principal supporters of the church. Mrs. Whitelock was a quiet, kind hearted christian woman, who read her Bible a great deal and lived out the Christ teachings in her every day life. Her home was the stopping place of the pastors of the Plum Tree church and many of them can testify to the christian hospitality of Mrs. Whitelock. She died July 3, 1900, at the age of 65 years, 1 month and eleven days, and was loved by all who knew her.

Mr. Whitelock was selected Sunday School superintendent before he became a member of church and after he united with the church he was continued as Sunday School superintendent and served altogether about ten years. He took great interest in the children during all these years, giving them many treats to gladden their young hearts. Although Mr. Whitelock is now 72 years old he still takes great interest in the success of children and young people. He has been during these years of church membership a most earnest advocate of the principles of his church and a strong supporter of her interests. He was appointed by Conference at its session in 1890 on a committee to decide on a field or location for the establishing of a Christian church as a missionary work of the Conference. This committee met in the City of Huntington, and largely through the influence of Mr. Whitelock, decided upon Huntington as the most inviting point. The report of this committee was approved and was the beginning of the establishment of the Huntington Christian church.

Mr. Whitelock's second marriage was with Mrs. Sarah Jane Rittenhouse, widow of Joseph Rittenhouse, deceased. They reside in the family residence at Huntington. Although Mr. Whitelock is not able to attend all the services of the church he is almost always present at the preaching services and has not lost any of his zeal for the church. He hopes to live to see a beautiful house of worship erected for the Huntington Christian church. Much of his means and the strength of his declining years will be given to his beloved Zion. May he be permitted to live to realize the fulfillment of his cherished church plans and have the pleasure of enjoying the crowning success of his ideals before the Master says, "It is enough, come up higher."

JENNIE MAUD WHITELOCK

Was born April 17, 1862, in Syracuse, N. Y. Her parents were Philo Sperry and Ester Neal Nottingham. Her father was a soldier in the rebellion, and died in the army of typhoid fever, May 3, 1863. Her mother died May, 1872. She was thus left an orphan at an early age. She made her home with her mother's sister, Jennie Robbins, in Mercer county, Ohio, until her marriage with O. W. Whitelock in 1882. Her education was obtained at the district school until the age of sixteen. Afterward she attended normal at Lebanon, O., and Valparaiso, Ind., where she graduated in the scientific class of 1880. She is a charter member of the Huntington Christian church and an active worker in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

ORLANDO W. WHITELOCK

Spent the first fifteen years of his life on his father's farm at Plum Tree, Ind., where the writer has often been pleasantly entertained during six years of ministerial life as pastor of the Plum Tree church. It was there I first met the young attorney and formed an acquaintance that has always been pleasant and agreeable.

Brother Whitelock, at the age of

REV. D. B. ATKINSON,
Professor of Latin in U. C. College, Merom, Indiana.

15, entered the public schools of Bluffton which he attended during the fall and winter terms of 1872-73 and 1873-74. In the winter of 1874-75 he taught school in Rock Creek township and with the money earned was enabled to take two terms at the Lebanon, Ohio, Normal. Thus he could more fully appreciate the value of money, by earning it himself, which at the same time taught him the lesson of self-reliance.

During the winters of 1876 and 1877 he taught school in Salamonie township and during the following winter he was likewise engaged in Montgomery county, Ohio. In the spring of 1878 he entered the Northern Indiana Normal school at Valparaiso, Ind., graduating from the scientific department the following year. He then entered the freshmen's law class and continued for one year, when he returned home and entered the law office of Colonel Milligan and Alfred Moore at Huntington. Here he read one year and was admitted to the bar in 1880. He then entered the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor and graduated in 1882.

This same year he formed a partnership with Colonel Milligan and at once begun a prosperous career as an attorney. The firm afterward was that of Milligan, Whitelock & Cook, which continued until Colonel Milligan retired from the practice. The junior member of the firm, Mr. Samuel E. Cook, is still associated with Mr. Whitelock in the practice of law. Recently Mr. Whitelock has given his attention largely to the newspaper business, being president and manager of the News Publishing Company and editor of the Huntington News-Democrat.

He served as city attorney of Huntington for three years and was appointed by Governor Matthews as Judge of the Huntington circuit court, which position he filled with respect and dignity.

The law firm of which he is the head, has been the legal adviser for the county commissioners for a number of years.

When a young man he united with the Plum Tree Christian church under the pastorate of Rev. Wm. Heflin, on the evening of New Years Day, 1876. He is one of the leading charter members of the Christian church of Huntington which was organized in 1881. He is one of the main supporters of the church and his example as an active church member is one worthy of note, for so often a business man gives but little time to the detail of the affairs of the church, especially to attend prayer meeting. But Brother Whitelock finds time, and scarcely a meeting of any kind is held at his church but that he is present, proving the old adage, "Where there is a will, there is a way." Brother Young, our pastor, fully agrees with me, that he encourages by his presence and means, every enterprise of the church.

He has served as president of Eel River Christian Conference for eleven years, having been elected at the annual session at Collamer in 1891. At the meeting of the American Christian Convention at New Market, Canada, in 1898, he was unanimously elected a trustee of the Christian Publishing Association. And upon the resignation of Rev. W. D. Samuel as president in 1900, Mr. Whitelock was chosen to fill the office, in which capacity he is still serving. In 1901 he was elected a trustee of Union Christian College.

Brother Whitelock was married to Jennie M. Nottingham, of Mercer county, Ohio, June 1, 1882. Four children have come to bless their home.

Wilfred Jonathan, who is now a student in Union Christian College; Mary Etta, now a student in the Huntington high school and from which she will graduate in a short time; Clarence, also a pupil in the city schools, and Charles Nottingham.

Brother Whitelock and wife are careful and economical in raising their family, giving the children a good education. They have a pleasant home and have accumulated some property and expect in the near future to erect a beautiful, substantial, new residence.

Brother Whitelock is a liberal contributor to the church and he looks forth with pleasure to the time when a new church building, now in contemplation, shall be erected in Huntington, to which he will contribute liberally. He is still in the prime of life and bids fair to live a number of years of usefulness. Such is the wish of all who know him.

AUXILIARIES.

The Eel River Christian Conference has three auxiliary organizations, each carrying on its special work and greatly augmenting the work of the churches. They are: (1) The Women's Home and Foreign Mission Board; (2) The Sunday School Association of the Eel River Christian Conference; and (3) The Eel River Christian Endeavor Union,

THE WOMEN'S HOME AND FOREIGN MISSION BOARD

Was organized, August, 19, 1891. Its object, as expressed in its constitution, is to aid the home and foreign mission interests of the church "by raising money through subscriptions, donations and contributions." The organization, as the name signifies, is composed of loyal women of the churches throughout the Conference. The officers consist of a president, vice president, secretary and a treasurer. It began its existence with fifty charter members. The first officers were: Mrs. Mary E. Cook, of Bluffton, President; Mattie Vandevere, of Murray, Vice President; Nettie Bowser, of Collamer, Secretary and Mrs. Etta Ross, of Collamer, Treasurer..

Usually one evening during the annual Conference session is given over to this society, when a missionary program is rendered, reports are read and officers are elected. This board has raised quite a large sum of money during the past eleven years of its organization, which has been judiciously given to our various missionary enterprises. The present officers are as follows: President, Mrs. M. A. Tompkins, Elk-hart; Vice President, Mrs. Hannah Dohner, Collamer; Secretary, Mrs. Nettie Young, Huntington; Treasurer, Mrs. Mina Young, Merriam.

THE EEL RIVER CHRISTIAN CONFERENCE SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

Was organized at the annual session of Conference at the Paw Paw church, August, 1897.

J. M. Brown, of Bluffton, suggested the organization of such an association for the promotion of our Sunday school interests. After the matter was quite thoroughly discussed in open conference, the president appointed a Sunday school board or committee to have this matter in charge. Each county in the Conference in which schools are maintained was represented on this committee which was as follows: Wells county, J. M. Brown, of Bluffton, who was made President; Huntington county, J. F. Barnes, of Huntington, who was made Secretary and Treasurer; Adams county, Alice Runyon, Lynn Grove; Elkhart county, F. T. Atkinson, Wakarusa; Noble county, Wm. B. Knappe, Cromwell; Wabash county, E. W. Brown, North Manchester; Whitley county, Alfred Ross, Collamer; Madison county, Ora Cripe, Lynnwood; Grant county, Brother Marshall, Swayzee.

Six districts were formed, each one of which has a corps of officers and holds a convention each year. For convenience the schools are grouped into districts as follows:

No. 1. Bluffton, Murray, Six Mile, Marion, Beuna Vista, Olivet and Swayzee.

No. 2. Huntington, Warren, Kelso, Bellville, Plum Tree, Salamonie, Clearcreek and Rock Creek Center.

No. 3. North Manchester, Paw Paw, Antioch, New Madison and Pleasant Grove.

No. 4. Collamer, Union, Eel River, Sidney and Dunfee.

No. 5. Broadway, Sparta, Merriam, Spring Hill, Pleasant Hill North Webster and Thorn Creek.

No. 6. Wakarusa, Goshen, Elkhart, Waterford, Leesburg, Millersburg and Millwood.

Since the organization of the association annual conventions have been held with the following churches: Collamer, fall of 1897; Huntington, May 1898; Merriam, 1899; Collamer, May, 1900; Broadway, June, 1901; Antioch, June, 1902. Each of the conventions has been well attended by our ministers and Sunday school workers, they have resulted in much good to our schools.

The present officers are: President, W. B. Knappe, Cromwell; Vice President, Ed Kitterman, North Manchester; Secretary and Treasurer, J. N. Ohlwine, Cromwell.

THE EEL RIVER CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION

At the annual session of Conference with the Sparta Christian church, in 1899, resolutions were adopted to the effect that the Christian Endeavor work of the Conference would be greatly augmented by organizing the Christian Endeavor societies of the Conference into an organization to be known as the Eel River Christian Endeavor Union. A committee composed of F. T. Atkinson, W. J. Young and Miss Ocie Karns was appointed to perfect such an organization.

Accordingly a convention was called which met at Collamer, May, 24-25, 1900, when a constitution and by-laws were adopted and the organization perfected. The object of the Union, as expressed by the constitution, is "to promote the Christian Endeavor interests of the Eel River Christian Conference and to bind into closer fellowship the members of the various societies, all for the glory of God and the advancement of His kingdom."

The following resolutions were passed at Paw Paw session of Conference, August, 1897:

1. That our ministers ought to inform themselves concerning the work of the Endeavor Society, and aid the societies in their churches by their presence and counsel.

2. That the societies of this Conference be required to report annually to this body, and that these reports be treated the same as those of the churches and Sunday School.

3. That the Endeavor societies of our churches be granted representation in this body as follows: Each Young People's society may be represented by two delegates, and each Junior society by one delegate, preference given to the Junior Superintendent.

4. That each society make an annual contribution to the Conference Fund and the Conference Mission Fund.

The union is at present composed of fourteen societies, located in the following named churches: Elkhart, Goshen, Huntington, Kelso, Marion, Merriam, Millersburg, Paw Paw, Pleasant Hill, Sparta, Swayzee, Thorn Creek, Warren and Wakarusa. Societies are also soon to be reorganized at Antioch and North Manchester. An annual convention is held each year in the first week in June, jointly with the Sunday school association. A portion of a day's session is also given over to the interests of the Union during each annual session of Conference.

The present officers of the union are as follows: President, Rev. W. J. Young, Huntington; Vice President, F. T. Atkinson, Wakarusa; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. F. O. Jellison, South Whitley; Evangelist, Calvin Perdue, Warren; Member of Executive committee, Rev. Hiley Baker, Kimmell.

INCORPORATION.

Eel River Christian Conference was organized as an association of Christian ministers and churches on the 26th day of August, 1844. Elder A. Baldwin was chosen chairman and W. B. Wade, Secretary. The Conference was not organized as a corporate body until in 1875, but existed simply as an association. During the years from 1844 to 1875 resolutions were passed and business transacted in the interests of the churches and ministers of the Conference in substantially the same manner as has been done since the incorporation of the body. At the annual session of Conference in 1873 a committee on incorporation was appointed. At the annual session in August, 1875, the committee on incorporation reported that what had been done to organize the body had not been done legally and recommended that steps be at once taken to incorporate in accordance with the statutes of Indiana then in force. Thereupon the president appointed as the committee on incorporation, Peter Winebrenner, John P. Kitt and Samuel Ohlwine.

A public notice was given of a called session of Conference to be held on Wednesday, October 13, 1875, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the Christian church near Wolf Lake, for the incorporation of Eel River Christian Conference, to embrace the counties of Steuben, DeKalb, Allen, Wells, Adams, Huntington, Whitley, Noble, Lagrange, Elkhart, Kosciusco and Wabash.

The called session met pursuant to notice. Committee on incorporation reported what had been done. The Conference then proceeded to the election of Trustees. Those elected were as follows, for one year term, Abraham Studabaker, Aaron Simpson and Christian Myer; two years, Miller Morgan, Samuel Ohlwine and J. P. Kitt; three years, Robert Gill, David P. Studabaker and Benjamin Benner. Certificate of election of said Trustees was issued and duly recorded in Albion, Noble county, October 20, 1875, in miscellaneous record No. 2, page 45.

The corporate existence of Conference therefore dates from October 20, 1875.

Conference was incorporated under the act of the legislature in force March 8, 1873, R. S. 1881, sections 3614 to 3623 inclusive, which are as follows:

That we will receive no minister from another denomination until he or she has been a member of the Christian church for at least one year, and thus prove himself loyal to and in sympathy with the doctrine, teaching and practice of the Christian church, and if she or he has not taken a prescribed course of study in preparation for the ministry, they shall complete the course prescribed by Conference. RECOMMENDATIONS.

Section 21. First, as to church organization.

No minister should organize a church without first conferring with at least two other ministers of the same Conference with himself, one of them to be an Elder.

Second, Those coming together for church fellowship, should promise to watch over each other for good, to dwell together in love and to acknowledge—

First, Christ as head of the Church.

Second, Christian the only name.

Third, The Bible the only rule of faith and practice.

Fourth, Christian character or the fruit the only test of church fellowship.

Fifth, The right of private opinion given to all.

No person who is not a member of the Christian church shall be elected a Trustee of any Christian church of this Conference.

After the church organization has been made, and before the church can become the owner of any real property, the church should be incorporated under the laws of the State of Indiana, under chapter 34, of the revised statute of Indiana, 1881.

By giving notice of the election of Trustees, as provided by Section 3818, R. S. 1881, as amended acts 1895, p. 13, which is as follows:

Notice to Elect Trustees. 3. Notice of the first election of Trustees shall be given at least ten days previous thereto by publication in a newspaper of the county if any be published therein, otherwise by posting such notices in three public places in the township where such election is to take place, one of which such notices shall be posted at the place where the proposed election is to be held. Such notice shall state the time, place of worship or meeting of such society if any there be: Provided, That at any subsequent election of such Trustees no such notice shall be necessary where such lodge or society shall in its rules, by-laws or constitution provide and fix the time and place for the election of its trustees.

At the election pursuant to notice, the clerk of the church shall keep a record of the votes cast for Trustees, and within ten days thereafter, shall deposit in the Recorder's office of the county where the real estate is situate, a certificate setting forth the notice of election, the time and place where the same was held, the name of the church, and the persons elected as Trustees, which certificate shall be recorded among the records of deeds of said county where the real estate is situate. Section 3819.

It is advisable that at the first election of Trustees, one be elected for a term of one year, another for two years, and a third for three years. Every year thereafter, one Trustee shall be elected for three years. In this way there is always two experienced members of the Board. At each annual election of Trustees notice must be given and a certificate filed and recorded, as is required at the incorporation. This should be promptly done. Sections 3819, 3821, 3823, R. S. 1881.

Note—Unless a fixed time and place be designated by the by-laws, see notices to elect trustees above.

Section 22. Second, as to officers of the church:

ANNUAL MEETINGS.

Section 24. The church should appoint an annual meeting, at which time all the officers of the church should make report to the church. The church should make settlement with its pastor; second, with its sexton; third, make settlement of all other claims; and fourth, should also make arrangements for preaching for the ensuing year. It is advisable to hold quarterly meetings in the church to consider its financial condition and make settlement with the sexton and to do and perform such other business as may pertain to the prosperity of the church.

DUTIES OF PASTORS.

to report for two consecutive years shall be notified by the Secretary that a report is due the Conference, and if said report be not received before the close of the next annual Conference thereafter, such church shall be dropped from the roll. [As amended, annual session, 1894.]

The following resolution passed at 1894 session: Resolved, "That we strike out the clause in the licentiate ministers' license prohibiting them from performing marriage ceremonies, and grant them the privilege of solemnizing marriages."

Resolved, "That all ministers laboring within the bounds of the Eel River Christian Conference be required to have the seal of said Conference placed upon their credentials, by the Secretary, and in case of failures of any minister to comply with these requirements, that his case be submitted to the Executive Board for the enforcement of the same." [Passed at the annual session in 1899.]

Resolved, "That the licentiates be required to pursue their preparation for the full work of the gospel minister, and that upon their refusal or neglect to do so within a reasonable period of time, their failure be regarded as prima facie evidence of their intention not to prepare themselves for ordination and sufficient reason for refusing to renew their license." [Passed at the annual session in 1899.]

OTHER MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS.

The following were recommended by the Executive Board and passed at the annual session in 1897:

DIPLOMAS.

The Board commends the issuing of diplomas to those finishing Course of Study, with a charge of $2.00 to each one receiving said diploma.

BADGES.

The Board also recommends that badges be prepared by the President in sufficient number that each minister, officer and delegate of Conference may be provided with one of the same during each session of Conference, and at the close of each session the badges to be returned to the Secretary to be kept for use at the next session.

The following motion was passed at the annual session in 1899:

"Moved that the picture of the organization of Conference be left with the church where Conference is held until the next session and then taken to the point where Conference is to be held."

SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

We, the Executive Board, would recommend that the Sunday Schools in the bounds of Eel River Conference, take up a special collection in the month of October, for the Franklinton College. The same to be kept account of and reported to Conference in the annual Sunday School reports. But the collection, as soon as taken, sent to Rev. J. F. Burnett, Eaton, Ohio. [Passed at annual session in 1895.]

At the annual session of Conference in August, 1900, the following recommendations were passed:

"The manner of selecting a pastor is one of great importance, and there is considerable complaint on account of the method employed by both church and pastor. Therefore, we recommend that the church members of each individual church, after earnest prayer, consult together as to the person for pastor who is best qualified, spiritually, socially, intellectually, and in every other way to build up God's spiritual house in their community, not looking so much for a cheap worker as for one to come among them who will set forward the Kingdom, remembering that 'the workman is worthy of his hire.'"

"We also recommend that preachers, after much prayer and seeking to be led by the spirit of God, shall serve the church where he is led to believe God can best use him to build up his work. Always having a written contract and looking after a prompt fulfillment of the same."

MISSIONS.

The first missionary work authorized by this Conference was in 1852, when a resolution was passed authorizing the appointment of an evangelist to preach within the bounds of this Conference to weak churches, solicit for his support and be paid $75.00 by Conference for his services. In 1861 the committee on missions reported in favor of organizing this Conference into a missionary society.

At the annual session in 1867 a resolution was adopted, "that each minister take up at least two collections during the year for missionary purposes, and also that any person failing to comply with such request be reprimanded by the President."

At the annual session in 1871 a resolution was passed, "that each male member comprising the churches of this Conference shall pay fifty cents annually into this Conference, in order that the financial board may supply destitute churches with preaching, and for the purchase of tracts and other publications.

At the annual session in 1884, it was ordered that each minister who has not laid before, and endeavored to collect the Conference Mission, to his charge severally, shall be reprimanded.

At the annual session in 1886, it was resolved, "that each member of each church be assessed five cents per quarter-year as a missionary fund, to be used among weak churches of Eel River Christian Conference.

At the annual session in 1887, a resolution was passed assessing each member of the different churches of this Conference ten cents per quarter.

At the annual session in 1890, it was resolved, "that this Conference raise, during the next six months, through the medium of ten cents per quarter, Home Mission Fund; the first half, which will be twenty cents per member which will consummate the amount of funds for the purpose of building one church this year, and that a committee of five shall be appointed to say where such church shall be located." The committee appointed was Jonathan Whitelock, A. T. Studabaker, J. W. Griffith, Samuel Long and Andrew Pence.

The action of this session of Conference led to the organization of the Huntington Christian church. This committee decided in favor of Huntington as the most available point. Elder George Abbott was selected to canvass this field and hold a meeting at Huntington, which he did, and on May 23, 1891, he, with the assistance of Elder Peter Winebrenner, organized this church, with 27 charter members, your president heading the list.

In 1891, a motion prevailed that the Home Mission Conference fund, of ten cents per quarter, should be paid when due—in November, February, May and August—and the regular Conference fund in July.

At the annual session in 1892, the Conference Mission Fund was more fully established by the adoption of Sections 35 and 36 of the by-laws.

This Conference adopted mission work as early as 1852. We are not advised as to the success of this early movement, but it is very certain, that it at least created a sentiment in favor of home mission work, within our own limits. In the years 1886 and 1887 this sentiment became crystalized into a more permanent shape, and from these years a more systematic and determined effort was made along the line of our Conference mission work. From 1890 to 1901 the contributions were as follows, annually:

An average of $196.32 per year.

What has been accomplished with this money?

This Conference mission money has been expended by our Conference in helping the following churches: Waterford, Huntington, Goshen, Millersburg, Sidney, Leesburg, Salamonie, Xenia, Thorn

Creek, Liberty Union and Elkhart. The money expended for these churches was well expended. In nearly every instance the church was sustained at a critical moment and much good done. A small amount was expended at Xenia that did not seem to bring much results to the church but possibly some good was accomplished. The Conference Mission Fund has been the means of saving several churches and of establishing at least two new churches, Huntington and Elkhart.

This Conference has contributed to Home Mission Fund A. C. C., annually, as follows:
